MYSTERIOUS WARNINGS TELL ALL AMERICANS TO LEAVE CAPITALS

CITIZENS IN LONDON AND BERLIN NOTIFIED

Washington, June 5.—Ambassador Gerard, at Berlin, cabled the state department today that reports of Americans in Germany having been warned to be prepared to leave were attributed to the embassy's standing advice that the war-zone in Europe is not a desirable place for Americans.

London, June 5.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company, from Amsterdam says: "A message received here from Berlin states that the American colony in Berlin has been warned officially that diplomatic relations between Germany and the United States may be broken off in forty-eight hours and that the people should hold themselves in readiness to leave Germany."

Several American residents of London today informed Robert P. Skinner, the American consul general here that last night they received anonymous telephone calls warning them to get out of London with their families at once.

Among those thus notified was M. K. Shuler, a member of the American-Belgium commission who was told by an unknown voice over the telephone not to stir from his home during the night and furthermore to fill the bath tub in his house with water.

For several days reports have been in circulation in London that all American women here had been warned to leave England by June 5. According to this report the American embassy had been requested by Berlin to issue a warning of this nature. Investigations brought the information that the ambassador had received no such request.

U. S. ATTORNEY OF OHIO RESIGNS UNDER FIRE

Washington, June 5.—Sherman T. McPherson, United States attorney for southern Ohio, resigned today and President Wilson selected Stuart R. Bolin of Columbus to succeed him.

It was said at the department of justice that McPherson resigned because of criticism of his conduct in connection with the Capital City Dairy receivership at Columbus. Attorney-General Gregory had asked for his resignation after he learned that while prosecuting the dairy company McPherson and his assistant received $20,000 fee as attorneys for the receiver for the company in a civil proceeding.

Headquarters of the district attorney for the southern district of Ohio will be moved from Cincinnati to Columbus as a result of the appointment of Stuart R. Bolin of Columbus. It was given out here today that Bolin accepted the appointment with the understanding that he would be allowed to make Columbus the official headquarters and that assurance was given that this would be approved by the department of justice. District Attorney McPherson and a long line of his predecessors had headquarters in the southern Ohio metropolis.

VILLA AND CARRANZA PLAN SETTLEMENT?

El Paso, June 5.—The possibility that President Wilson's recent note to Mexican leaders might result in a rapprochement between General Carranza and General Villa was being discussed in Mexican circles here today. It was stated authoritatively that at the suggestion of a high Villa official a request has gone to El Paso, Ariz., to Carranza's representative at Washington, to outline some basis for an understanding.

MAY ABOLISH HANGING
Phoenix, Ariz., June 5.—The Arizona House of Representatives was expected to have before it today a bill abolishing capital punishment. Since the recent reprieve of five Mexicans condemned to death, Governor Hunt has been organizing his forces for a determined effort to abolish the death penalty at the present special session of the legislature.

OHIOAN KILLED IN CRASH

Akron, O., June 5.—Robert Crawford, nine, Leontina, Ohio, was killed and three other members of the Crawford family hurt today when their auto turned turtle near Hudson. A broken axle was the cause. A. A. Crawford and wife were the most seriously hurt.

AVIATORS INJURED IN 300 FT FALL

Chicago, June 5.—Vincent Durrey and Frank Pouth, aviators, were in a critical condition today as a result of falling 300 feet while testing a new biplane yesterday. They were buried under the wrecked machine and suffered in-

FEAR MEXICANS WILL ATTACK AUGUA PRIETA

Douglas, Ariz., June 5.—Warnings issued to Villa commanders, Trujillo and Urbalejo, by Colonel C. M. O'Connor that an attack on Agua Prieta would endanger American lives and property on this side of the boundary line have been followed by a heavy increase in the United States border patrol. Additional troops of the Ninth cavalry took up stations today east and west of here. It is reported that forces under Generals Trujillo, Urbalejo and Sosa, are gradually closing in to invest Agua Prieta. The Carranza garrison is strengthening fortifications.

CABINET APPROVES PRESIDENT'S NOTE

Washington, June 5.—President Wilson was today putting the finishing touches on his latest note to Germany concerning the sinking of the Lusitania. It already had been approved in principle by the cabinet. All that was needed today to start the communication on its way to Berlin was the ranking of minor changes in phraseology. This was the task before the president.

The president was expected to complete the work of revision during the day. The note will then be sent to the state department for transmission by cable probably tonight or tomorrow to Ambassador Gerard at Berlin who will in turn present it to the German foreign office.

Previous reports that the note will be brief but emphatic, are borne out, it is said, by the text as it now stands.

GERMANS SCORE POINTS ON BOTH LAND AND SEA; ADVANCE ON LEMBERG

London, June 5. (1:15 p. m.)—Hostile airships dropped bombs on the east and southeast coasts of England last night. Little damage was done and the casualties apparently were few. The bombs were thrown down at a number of different places which have not as yet been enumerated. This information is contained in an official statement given out here today.

Norwich, Eng., June 5. (12:05 p. m.)—The trawler Little Boy of Lowestoft has arrived at that port with the crews of the trawlers Horace and Economy on board, these two ships having been sunk by the Germans. A German submarine stopped the three trawlers in the North Sea Thursday and gave the crews of the Horace and the Economy five minutes to board the Little Boy. After the transfer had been made the fishermen were sunk by bombs placed on board by the crew of the submarine.

London, June 5 (12:15 p. m.)—The steamer drifter Ena May, of Peterhead, the trawler Strathban and the sailing ship George and Mary all have been sent to the bottom by German submarines. The crews of all three ships were saved.

Leith, Scotland, June 5.—The steamer Sunnethad was torpedoed yesterday. The crew was ordered into the boats and landed at Berwick.

London, June 5.—Official announcement was made here this afternoon that another German spy named Robert Rosenthal, had been arrested and had made a confession.

Kirkcubright, Arkeney Islands, June 5.—Three more British ships have been sunk by German submarines. The steam vessels Kathleen of Peterhead and Evening Star and Cortes of Aberdeen were sent to the bottom yesterday. The crews were landed here today.

London, June 5.—Another German air raid on the coasts of England last night, coupled with the usual week-end activity of German submarines, are the war developments of the past twelve hours, which are today holding public attention. Discussion of the fall of Przemysl has been laid aside for matters nearer home.

Little is known as yet of the extent of the aerial attack, but it does not seem to have done much damage or cost many lives. German submarines have been very busy during the past few days in the North Sea and in the Bristol channels.

The biggest capture of the Germans was the five thousand ton Liverpool steamer Tokran. Another important victim was the Ocean Liner Iona, erroneously reported at first as the Wilson Line steamer of the same name. The other ships sent to the bottom by the Germans include, in addition to several trawlers, four neutral ships, including two Danish, one Norwegian and one Swedish.

The Austro-German forces have pushed as far as Lemberg, which is some distance northeast of Przemysl. Notwithstanding the evacuation of this fortress, the Russians have maintained an unbroken fighting front on both sides of the railroad to Lemberg.

Thus far the Austrians and Germans apparently have made little progress since the taking of Przemysl, although an Austrian official report states that the Russians have been driven east to the vicinity of Medyka.

British and French reports indicate hard fighting on the western front, without much progress for either side. The Belgian frontier has again been closed to traffic. This tends to confirm reports that the Germans are moving heavy reinforcements to their positions along the Yser canal.

German Report
Berlin, June 5.—(Via London)—Reports from the Galician front indicate that the Austro-German troops are now in complete possession of all parts of Przemysl. The Russians contested stubbornly each advance, but were from the (Continued on Page Eight)

BOY AND GIRL ARE DROWNED

Youngstown, O., June 5.—Roy and Mollie Barber, aged respectively 7 and 10, brother and sister, were drowned here today in Mill Creek park. The youngsters were fishing on the bank of the stream when the girl fell in. The boy went to her aid and both were drowned.

WILLIS VETOES TEN, O. K'S SIXTEEN BILLS

Columbus, O., June 5.—Governor Willis today vetoed ten bills passed by the last general assembly. Among these were the Platt dog tax bill and the Graham full crew train bill. Sixteen legislative measures were signed by the governor today, and are now ready to become laws. One of the measures approved was the McDermott liquor license bill.

Hundreds of dog owners and friends of dogs filed vigorous protests against the Platt dog bill and urged the chief executive to disapprove it. The opponents of the bill said that if it became a law it would mean the extermination of dogs in Ohio. Gov. Willis vetoed the measure because it sanctioned what he regarded as cruel treatment upon dogs and would seriously impede the work of assessors who would have been required to collect the dog tax under its provisions. Members of humane societies joined with dog owners in urging that the bill be vetoed.

The bill sought to increase the tax on dogs from $1 and $2 to $1.50 and $3, and provided that this money should go into a fund to be used in paying damages for the killing of all farm animals by canines.

Opponents of the Platt bill contended it was aimed at the poor. Under it the assessor, if the tax was not paid to him on a dog, could order the owner to kill the animal, and if he failed to do so, he could be fined $25 and costs.

WILL FIRE OVENS
Connellsville, Pa., June 5.—Orders were issued at the offices of the H. C. Frick Coke company here today for the immediate firing of eight hundred ovens at two of the company's plants. Reports indicate that of a total of 14,224 ovens in this region, 12,895 are in blast, the record in more than a year.

LIFT QUARANTINE IN OHIO COUNTIES

Washington, June 5.—Additional territory freed today by the department of agriculture from the foot and mouth quarantine includes all Indiana, except the Belt Railroad Stockyards, Indianapolis, and all Ohio except the following counties: Licking, Lorain, Ashland, Auglaize, Clinton, Darke, Erie, Greene, Hamilton, Hancock, Huron, Knox, Montgomery, Ottawa, Paulding, Preble, Richland, Sandusky, Seneca, Summit, Wayne, Wood, Wyandott, and the Union Stock Yards at Cleveland.

Changes in the regulations were made for certain portions of Ohio, West Virginia, Illinois, Kansas and Pennsylvania.

If the sun keeps on shinin' for a day or so longer (I'll get a feelin' real cheery. Think of it—almost three days now and not a drizzle o' rain. Why first thing we know we'll be complainin' about a "dry spell." I've got t' th' point where I absolutely refuse t' argy about t' pronunciation of that word "Frenskyszel." Here's t' weather:
Ohio—Probably showers in north portion.
Kentucky and W. Va.—Fair to night and Sunday.

when death overtook him.

Mr. Crawford was "seared" and grew to manhood in the immediate vicinity of Portsmouth and was admitted to the bar. While yet a young man he was elected mayor of the city and served one term. From Portsmouth he went to Cincinnati and practiced law in partnership with the late Hon. John J. Glendon, a noted lawyer. Then he went to Chicago, where he lived for several years. Following his Chicago residence he was engaged in business in various parts of the world.

Mrs. Sarah Curry

To die on the anniversary of the day of her birth was the fate of Mrs. Sarah Curry, who passed away at her home in Stewartville, Friday night as the result of a nervous collapse.

Mrs. Curry was born in Lewis county, Ky., 31 years ago Friday, the daughter of William Penrod, who is now a resident of Adams county, O. Five years ago she was married to A. C. Curry, an engineer in the power house at the steel plant. Just after the 1913 flood while living in New Boston she was stricken with spinal meningitis and became totally blind. She never fully recovered from the shock and had been bedfast throughout the past winter and spring. Besides her husband Mrs. Curry leaves a little daughter, Opal, aged 4 years, and three step children, Harry, Herman and Doris. She is also survived by a brother, Chester Penrod, of Columbus, and two sisters, Mrs. Hattie Rohrer, of Stewartville and Mrs. Mary Hughes, of the Mann's Run pike. She was a member of the Baptist church. The remains will be taken to Adams county Monday for burial in the Copas graveyard on Blue Creek.

Joseph Downard

C. T. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stewart, Kelly Adams, Will Stiles and Misses Ivy and Nell Stewart attended the funeral of the former's uncle, Joseph Downard, aged 74 years, at Wakefield, Friday.

Mr. Downard was a farmer by occupation and served on the Union side during the Civil War. He died of cancer which he had suffered for years. He is survived by the widow and one son, Olney Downard. The funeral took place from Salt Creek chapel.

Oscar Hughes

Quincy Hughes, employed at the Bentley & Veley dry cleaning plant, Fifth and Offshore streets, and who resides on Ninth street, has returned from Newport, Ky., where he was called by the death of his brother, Oscar Hughes, who passed away Sunday night. Mr. Hughes suffered a stroke of paralysis four weeks ago and continually grew worse until death claimed him.

He was a former resident of this city, having been employed at the Wall Furniture company. He was a most exemplary young man and his many friends in this city will be grieved to learn of his death.

Work guaranteed. Prices reasonable.

George W. Crawford

A telegram received Saturday from Mrs. Minnie Dight, now living in New York City, stated that she had investigated the death at sea of the man who registered with the purser as Major Crawford, and found that it was her brother, George W. Crawford, former mayor of Portsmouth. He had been in London on a business mission, and was on his way back to New York

Love Lorn Lassie's Father Is Locked Up For 'Contempt'

Thomas Stevens, of Mill street, father of Anna Stevens, the 12-year-old girl whose love affair with Jake Hill was interrupted by the police Friday, was lodged in the county jail Saturday afternoon by Judge Beatty on a contempt charge. Stevens promised to bring his daughter into juvenile court this afternoon, but appeared without her. He told the court to go get her himself. As the judge had information which led him to believe that Stevens had encouraged his daughter's infatuation for her admirer, the court committed him to jail.

THE MERRY SIDE OF LIFE

BY JOSEPH WALLACE

ERRE'S something funny," I remarked to Trixie to-day, while the proprietor of the popular fool emporium hovered in the vicinity of a new customer who was stealthily reaching for a segment of strawberry short cake that belonged to some one else.

"A well known writer says that the average business man is of to-day needs to take lessons in courtship. Do you think so?"

"It's about time some one called the 'bun'," Trixie replied. "How many fellows know how to satisfy a queen with romantic speeches instead of telling her how they are setting the world on fire with the shoe trade. Some think the only way to win a bee-yoo-tee-fol doll is to say, just like that, 'I have enough money to get married. Would you like to come along?' And, remember, all the time the poor queen is just waiting for him to fall on his knees and, with tears in his eyes, warble, 'I'm wearing my heart away for you.'"

"Give me the fellow that waits into the house like a beam of sunshine and tells me my eyes would send a trolley car to the repair shop, even though he read the speech in some book. Give me the fellow who tells me he will get me any star in the sky, when he hasn't enough to ride in the subway."

"Remember that bludge used to wait on your table and was always dreaming of marrying some handsome gink with a bundle of money? She said my crowning glory changed color with the weather, but outside of that I didn't get anything against her. One night she was introduced to a certain party up at our house, and after that he hovered around her like a bee."

"There were no medals on him for looks, but when it came to grinding out flowery speeches he had Romeo backed off the boards. Why, he used to tell Bloddy her eyes were the color of violets in June, and she believed it. One night he proposed with a song and dance which would make an impression on a wooden Indian, but Bloddy hesitated."

"You are on the eligible list," she says, "but the only thing I got against you is you ain't strong for work. If you won't work where will we get the money to live? That floured him, but only for a minute. Then he gave her a loving flash which would melt an iceberg, and said—"

"What does mere mere amount to when a charming girl is in question. There are few delightful creatures like you at large in this mundane world. You are the most beautiful wren in captivity, a lovely flower that will bloom in my heart while the earth rolls on its dreary way."

"When we are married we will live in a wonderful dreamland. Heavenly melodies will take us along on the wings of love, and on that eventful day when my poems are accepted you will reign in life's garden as my queen." "That's enough for me," says Bloddy, crying all over her face. "You got my number with that sugary spiel. Buy a piece of ice for my third finger and name the day." So they were married, and—

"Poor girl," I interrupted. "Little does she realize that as the wife of a poet her days will be clouded with poverty. But, then, it always takes a woman to do foolish things. Have their marital troubles reached the divorce court yet?"

"That's the funny part," Trixie replied. "They were hardly back from the honeymoon when one of his relatives pummed away and left him a pile of golden ducats which would free Ireland, and now Bloddy looks like an ad for a jewelry store. Can you beat it?"

Woman Falls From Tree; Both Of Her Arms Are Broken

Mrs. W. A. Spriggs fell 20 feet from a cherry tree at Quincy, Ky., Friday afternoon and was seriously injured.

Both arms were broken, three ribs were fractured and Mrs. Spriggs suffered a bad cut over the right eye. She was visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Harris of ninety when the accident took place.

A limb of the tree on which she was standing gave way without warning and Mrs. Spriggs plunged to the ground.

Dr. O. W. Robe of this city, was called to Quincy this afternoon as Mrs. Spriggs' condition is very serious. She formerly resided here, but for some time has been making her home in Detroit.

Youth Confessed To Serious Charge

Youthful depravity in a shocking form was disclosed in juvenile court this afternoon when Frederick Moore, 15-year-old youth of Scioto Furnace, confessed to having attempted to criminally assault an eleven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eli Smith of the same place, Friday. Young Moore is said to have made his confession without any show of feeling of regret. He was sentenced to an indefinite term in the Boys' Industrial School at Lancaster.

On account of the death of Mrs. W. W. Gatos, the Irving Drew shoe factory will be closed down all day Monday, opening again Tuesday morning.

Dependability—versus—Ingenious Claims

MORE than 75 concerns now manufacture tires. We believe that everyone of these makes as good a tire as the others. Equipment and Methods make possible.

We believe that the average tire manufacturer is fair in his treatment of customers, and that few deliberately misrepresent their product, either verbally or in print.

We believe that no tire manufacturer can afford to make statements in print about his product, which statements cannot be borne out by the performance of his tires, in actual use.

We believe that the tire has never been made which will not "Run-Cut" if run "flat" for any considerable distance, and that many makers, including ourselves, have always produced tires that would not otherwise "Run-Cut."

We believe that many more tires "Break-at-the-head" than Cut at the Rim.

We believe that the Rubber Riving System of attaching the tread to the carcass (by means of a loosely woven fabric, which permits the raw rubber to penetrate through its meshes and then vulcanize to carcass and tread) prevents, to a large extent, tread separation.

We have long used this in our "Goodrich" tires, as a commonplace part of our Precision policy, but without laying any particular stress upon it.

We believe that the "Double-Cure" process, common with a great many Tire Manufacturers under different names, while its necessary expense to Tire Cost, which expense the Methods of the Goodrich Factory eliminate through its Precision "Single-Cure."

We believe that the cutting out of needless expenses like this (which our Precision Methods save) constitutes one of the strongest reasons why the largest Rubber Factory in the World (Dunlop) produces the greatest Mileage—per Dollar of Cost—in its tires.

And—

"The PROOF of the Tire is in the Mileage thereof."

We believe that the House which sticks to the Truth in its advertising, is the best in its Selling. You have never yet found anything in Goodrich Advertising which was not in the Goods it advertised.

Hence you may pin your faith to the following statement:—

Tires give, with most UNIFORMITY, the greatest MILEAGE, and Resiliency, at the fairest Cost, per Mile, to Tire Users. Test them and see!

Falls 35 Feet Into River

Wade Swisher, of Oshesire, Ohio, employed on the new Scioto river bridge, had not until Saturday morning, qualified as a high diver. However, from now on he will have to be recognized as a genuine Steve Brodie, for he took a 35 foot tumble and landed in the Scioto river, coming up with the grace of a skilled diver.

He was working on top of one of the piers, when he lost his footing and began his perilous descent. Fortunately for him he landed right side up with care, and cut through the water without making much of a splash, but swam to the shore with the skill of a duck and was soon on top of the pier working as usual. Swisher rooms at the West End hotel. He is congratulating himself that he escaped injury. He is an employee of the Mt. Vernon Bridge company.

ON THE BENCH WITH JUDGE McHUGH

BY JAMES EDMUND DUFFY

HOW d'ye think it was? because Chink an' Japs an' comin' out, ye're hoost!" said the court attendant.

"They'll be no wa'n. Not fr' the p'riest at first," said little Judge Dan McHugh.

"A peace agreement was signed last week when the Ching Landrymin's Association decided it was not wise to take the family warruk, an' the Japs agreed not to kick longer again the goss warruk in the Ching Landrymin's.

"Still, ye can never tell what'll happen when a Chink an' a Jap meet. I've seen the time that a Jap was no more walk past Chink Moo's store than he was jump into the canal. The queer to see how much who luk so much alike can have such different feelings fr' an another.

"But, after all, it means naught to luk alike. I do be rememberin' little Mike Dimpy, who drove on the truck. He was a twin brother fr' Chink's an' Timmy, but every time they met they'd wrap their arms around each other, but not out of affection. I never in me life seen him who had such hate fr' each other, an' still they loked fr' all the warruk like twin brothers. After I read the performance in the in-lads I made up me mind that the man ye loked like was a gude person to keep away fr'm.

"An' so it is wid the Japs an' the Chingmin. They can't luk at wan another widout wan lumberin' up fr' a warruk match on the other raydin under the counter fr' a flatiron. I wouldn't thrust anythin fr' them. I'd thrust them no sooner than I wud the King in England, an' Gawd knows I wudn't take any chances wid him. Me grandfather the win a-lad was given hard usage be the King, an' when he got to this country he made a promise he wud never miss a chance to say a warruk again the King, an' when he died he further tuk up the bottle, an' I'm carryin' it on today.

"Still, I don't believe in hittin' a man when he's carryin' a plank on his back up a hill, an' I'd be merciful an' say naughtin fr' the King until after he settles his quarrel wid his old due neighbor. Let them fight it out. I'm noochal, an' I'll not be dragged into any quarrel wid fearin'.

"I suppose if I must take sides wid wan fr' the yellow nation by the Orient, it will be wid the Landrymin. I've had a soft spot in me heart fr' them ever since they kicked the Improper into the street. That was a glorious day fr' the Chinks. Cassidy lols ane they's only ture hundredth million in this rounin' half naked around the country. Goss them a gu' an' a pipe full if they an' I'd bet me last cent they close up any empire in the warruk. A pinch is hop to a Chink is like a bottle is ale to an Englishman or a drop is the cruther to wan in our own race.

"Let them little anny trouble they have becomin' themselves. Here I am in the land is the free, an' here I'm goin' to stay, an' I'd drive a warruk do I want see fought in this country. I have me fights ever day, an' when a man has been roidin' around the wa-and as long as I have he's had enough in warruk. Sit on the bench here wid me fr' a day, an' ye'll see that we're a warrin' people ourselves.

"If Japan don't declare war on the Chingmin I'll do it myself," said the court attendant.

"What has the Ching people bein' doin' to you?" asked the Judge.

"That want evel drive on the corner has spoilt two in me Sunday collar, an' if he roolin' another they'll be a warruk in the warruk again," said the court attendant.

Secret Wedding

The Markets

WEEKLY SUMMARY OF THE MARKETS

New York, June 5.—The feature of the week was the decision of the Federal Court acquitting the United States Steel Corporation from any violations of the anti-trust laws. Steel rose on this news to 64, the highest price of the year, and more than ten points over its ruling quotations in January, when the common dividend was passed.

All parts of the list shared in the advance, some of the specialties now under government prosecution, rising six to sixteen points, with Harvester as the greatest gainer. Realizing sales in heavy volume followed the rise, with concurrent declines, many stocks retaining but a small part of their advantage while others, including Reading and Canadian Pacific, sold lower than before the Steel decision became known.

In the fore part of the week, the market manifested uncertain tendencies on a moderate amount of business. Foreign conditions, while admittedly less tense, were further complicated by the injection of the Mexican situation, Washington's attitude pointing to decisive action in that quarter.

The industrial situation reflected marked improvement in the steel and metal trades, most of the steel mills increasing their output, while copper sold at a high price in years. Demand for new equipment grows steadily but exports of steel and kindred products are hampered by lack of vessels.

Railroad reports showed a preponderance of gains, mostly at the expense of enforced economies. Tonnage in the west and southwest compares favorably with a year ago and crop news was more encouraging.

Foreign exchange again worked favorably to this country, remittance to France and Italy falling to lowest known records. Remittances to London were steadied by the receipt of further large amounts of gold from Canada.

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, June 5.—The wave of enthusiasm which swept yesterday's stock market to a higher level as the result of the United States Steel's decision subsided completely today. Trading was very light and mainly represented the usual week-end settlement of professional accounts. The only notable features were the motor shares, which gained from 3 to 11 points. Steel recorded a 1 point decline in the early dealings and other leaders reflected moderate pressure. Among the railways Canadian Pacific was again the weakest feature losing 2½. Coppers alone showed consistent strength. Amalgamated rising above yesterday's high price. The closing was irregular. Bonds were steady.

Can You Succeed On a Salary?

It will take more than your salary, however, large, to insure your financial success for the simple reason that, as an almost invariable rule, the scale of living a person maintains is in direct proportion to his income.

Earn much, spend much is the way it goes. In order to get ahead EVERYBODY must save a portion of his income. There's no getting around this fact, and a strong bank like the Central National is the logical place for you to build up your reserve fund.

EAST MADISON
A large crowd was present at the baptizing in Brushy Fork Creek last Sunday afternoon. Ten applicants were baptized by Rev. Bostwick, pastor of the U. B. church at Salem. Alva Martin, the photographer, was present, and took several views of the baptism. About three hundred people witnessed the ceremonies. Decoration Day was observed at the Carmel cemetery by the people of that vicinity. A dinner was given Saturday at the home of Joseph Bonzo, Sr., in honor of Mr. Bonzo's eighty-third birthday. A good time was enjoyed by all. Dan Wilson and Joseph Bonzo, Jr., were visiting relatives at Salem last week. Orel Dever has purchased a fine touring car. Seio County Pomona Grange meets at Valley Grange hall next Saturday. Several people of Jackson county attended the baptizing Sunday. James Alexander is doing a good business on his peddling route. A petition for a new mail route in this vicinity will soon be in circulation. Many people here have very poor mail facilities and a new route is badly needed.

WILD PROBLEMS AND SOME OTHERS
By the Man-with-the-Grouch.

LINKS was in a state of panic at the club one night. There was no denying that fact. He was so excited that he ordered another drink before he finished the first one.

"What's the matter, Blinks?" asked the Man-with-the-Grouch. "Are your creditors after you?"

Blinks immediately assumed an air of injured innocence. There was conscious superiority in his manner when he answered.

"I'm not thinking of myself," he said grandly. "I'm worried about the world."

"For instance?" demanded the Man-with-the-Grouch.

"Well, there's this awful crisis in Portugal. And now Italy's in the war. And there's the upsetting of the British Cabinet and German submarines attacking lots of other things."

"Don't take it so hard, little one."

"YOU'RE WORRYING ABOUT THINGS YOU CAN'T HELP."

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, marriage, divorce, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, O. Office Phone 80. Residence A-902.

dated by the sweet girl graduate, also the sweet young boy grad.

Dear Dolly—I am a young lady employed in an office where a young man I love dearly is also employed. Kindly tell me how to learn if he has any love for me.

BLONDIE.
Men are not famous for concealing the state of their emotions. If this man fails to make love to you it is probably because he does not care for you. Why waste affection where it is not appreciated?

Dear Miss Wise—I am a lonely troubled girl and seek your advice. I try to live a Christian life, but find all kinds of temptations in my path. There is an awful question for you to decide. I have been going with a fellow who dresses nice, and is called a sport by some people. We have quit and I go with a fellow who can not dress near so nice, because he has no father and has to work for his mother and sister. He treats me nice and wants to keep steady company with me, but some laugh at him. He has yellow golden hair, blue eyes, and is very fair. He was in the habit of drinking, but for my sake (and his) he is about to quit, and begin church work. Shall I stick to him or shall I turn him down because he is poor?

REDEMPTION.
Better stick to the "poor fellow" at least for awhile anyway until you get him back on the straight and narrow path. After you have tried him out you will be better able to decide which one you want.

Dear Miss Wise—What can I use to destroy the worms and bugs on my rose bushes without injuring the plant?

ROSEBUD.
Make a tea out of tobacco and sprinkle the bushes with this, of course, allowing it to get cold before using. Or you can buy a regular preparation of nicotine, with directions for using, at the drug stores.

Dear Miss Wise—Would you please give me some advice as to a badly needed. My age is 18 years and I have a mother who is forever quarreling with me and

Sure you should. Let your guest stand in the receiving line with you and introduce her to all the boys and girls who come to your party. It is not necessary to give graduation presents, but a little gift would be greatly appreciated.

Dear Dolly—When having a party for a guest who is not acquainted with any of the boys and girls, should I give her an introduction to all of them, and are you supposed to send presents on receiving invitations from graduates?

calls me all kinds of bad names, and Dolly, I work every day ten hours and then go home and help do up the work. My stepfather is always growling with me too, and they won't let me keep company with any fellow at home. I have to meet him out on the street somewhere, and that is not the thing to do. I also give her the most of my money, and they want me to stay at home all the time and work on Saturday evening and Sunday and not have any pleasure. How about leaving home?

"IGNOMIA."
I don't believe I'd leave home if I were you. A working girl has a hard time out in the world, especially a girl of your age. You are not old enough to judge people and there is danger of your getting in with bad companions. I imagine you are magnifying your troubles. I don't see how a mother could mistreat a loving and dutiful daughter. Perhaps you are rude and disobedient and your mother has to exercise her authority to make you mind. You are rather young to want to have a steady. As to having young men friends, if you are real good to your mother and help her all you can I think she will treat you better, and allow you to have your friends at home. Ask her to go with you down street and invite your girl friends to your home. Let her share your good times. She probably thinks her lot is hard too. Remember she has given the best years of her life to bring you up and you ought to at least show her a little kindness and consideration in her declining years. Did you ever look at the situation in that light? If not think it over and I'll wager you'll be a better little girl in the future.

Dear Dolly—When a young man takes a girl home from church and enters the house for a short call, does the girl go to the door first, or does she let the man enter before her?

WANT-TO-KNOW.
A woman always precedes a man through a door, in her own home or elsewhere. The only exceptions are in autos, street cars or other conveyances from which a man is supposed to help a woman to alight.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Stewart, of 2117 Gallia street, was the scene of a very delightful birthday party last evening when forty little ones gathered to celebrate the sixth anniversary of their sweet little daughter, Ada Catherine. The home was beautifully decorated with Japanese lanterns and chimes, with the table in the center adorned with flowers. The center of attraction was the lovely birthday cake with six candles, arranged in pink rosebud holders. The color scheme was pink and white, and the favors were miniature dolls, presented by the little hostess. Various games and plays were indulged in and the children were artistically arranged around the table and their pictures taken by Mr. Richard Prince. Lovely presents, too numerous to mention, were received by the little hostess. Refreshments of ice cream, cake and candy were served by the mother, Mrs. J. C. Stewart, assisted by Mrs. Stanley Kratzer and Misses Catherine Gerlach, Nettie Simpson and Hazel Puckett. Those present included: Mildred Davenport, Marguerite Dehner, Mildred Bertram, Ruth Bertram, Bonnah Duffen, Helen Fugit, Helen Gaudard, Mildred Graves, Dorothy and Evelyn Kratzer, Mildred Layman, Virginia, and Louise Layman, Elizabeth McAllister, Irene and Irma McClave, Mildred Norman, Naomi Pitts, John Pitts, Elizabeth Pyles, Dorothy Puckett, Clara, Edna and Alice Sutton, Nellie Simpson, Clifford Simpson, Bertha, Margaret and Dorothy Smith, Helen Smith, Olga, Virginia and Helen Stewart, Mildred Turner, Minnie Simpson, Marie Underwood, Guldio White, Elsie Workman, William Layman and Ada Stewart.

Every Woman in Portsmouth Knows It

Men wouldn't do the family washing!

Why, bless your hearts, they wouldn't even put up with the steams and smells of washday—let alone doing the ironing!

Which reminds us of the Illinois man who said: "Don't catch me sending my shirts to the laundry, sister Em's a dandy ironer."

Fine compliment to Em, wasn't it?

And there are plenty of sister Em's right here in Portsmouth.

This summer try the easy way—let us do the family wash—the difference in cost isn't enough to mention.

FREE COURSE IN PHOTO-PLAY WRITING

GIVEN BY THE PORTSMOUTH TIMES

In connection with the Columbia, Lyric, Exhibit, Arcana and Temple Theatres

There is a great demand for scenarios. The growth of the moving picture industry has caused the demand to be greater than the supply, and nearly all the manufacturers pay good prices for acceptable stories. Scenario writing has, therefore, become quite a craze. This is the sixth of a series of ten free lessons to be published in the Times, one each Saturday. The lessons are written by Lillian M. Rubenstein, formerly scenario editor of the Lubin Motion Picture Company. Read this sixth lesson, the short story, and read the other lessons to follow, and when the course is completed you should be a thoroughly competent photo-play writer and able to sell your work to the big producers.

LESSON No. 6

(Copyrighted by Lillian M. Rubenstein)

Dick Walton, superintendent of the Robson Shoe Factory, is in love with Mildred Mason, the pretty stenographer. Mildred (who is of a decidedly feisty nature) has promised Dick to marry him, Jane, Mildred's elder sister, who possesses an extremely unselfish nature, is devoted to Mildred and is also secretly in love with Dick. Will Emmet, traveling agent for the Robson shoe factory, is desperately in love with Mildred and tries in every way to win her from Dick; while examining a new sewing machine there is an explosion and Dick is blinded; he is taken to the Mason home where he boards; Jane is half crazed with grief over Dick's condition; Will Emmet calls to see Dick and upon discovering that he is blind permanently persuades Mildred to elope; Dick who has been unconscious, calls for Mildred upon regaining his senses, and Jane finding Mildred's letter in which she writes she could never marry a blind man, fearing the effect upon Dick in his weakened condition, decides to impersonate her sister in order to pacify Dick and to trick him into thinking Mildred is still loyal to him. She places the locket and bracelet given to Mildred by Dick and left by Mildred with her letter when eloping upon her neck and arm and answers Dick's call; their voices being identical, Jane easily convinces Dick that she is Mildred. During a long illness Dick is faithfully nursed by Jane and upon his recovery (still blind) he asks Jane if she loves him enough to marry a blind man; Jane who simply worships him and thinking he will never regain his sight, consents to marry him, with the approval of her mother who is aware of Jane's noble nature and strong love for Dick; a year later Dick and Jane are happy in the possession of a little baby; old man Robson had settled a generous sum upon Dick and had also brought several specialists to examine Dick's eyes in hope of having his sight restored; in the meantime Mildred was paying the price of her treachery, as she had learned too late that the man she had married was a gambler and a drunkard; in desperation Mildred finally decides to return home, unaware of Jane's marriage to Dick.

A noted specialist had examined Dick and through old man Robson an operation is decided upon; it is successful and as bandages are about to be removed, Jane, fearing exposure of her deception, drops upon her knees at the side of her baby's cradle; Mildred enters the room, stands at the doorway just as Dick discovers that he can see again. He looks around and sees Mildred and joyfully clasps her in his arms, while Jane weeps convulsively. Mrs. Mason brings Jane to Dick, tells of her noble sacrifice, explains Mildred's treachery, Dick listens in amazement, and awakened to Jane's unselfishness, clasps her to his heart. Mildred exits with bowed head while Jane brings her baby, which she places in Dick's arms and picture ends as Dick kisses Jane.

GERMANY IGNORANT OF ATTACK ON NEBRASKAN

Berlin, June 5.—James W. Gerard, the American ambassador, yesterday called at the foreign office and requested information concerning the torpedoing of the American steamer Nebraska off the southern coast of Ireland last month. He was informed that the German government had received no report of the incident. While no official announcement has yet been made concerning the nature of the explosion which damaged the steamer Nebraska, the captain and the members of the crew when they arrived in Liverpool expressed the opinion that the vessel had been torpedoed. An examination of the Nebraska was made recently at Birkenhead where the steamer was drydocked after the explosion by Lieutenant John H. Povers, naval attaché of the American embassy in London. His report has been sent to Washington. The Nebraska at the time she was damaged was on her way from Liverpool for Delaware Breakwater.

American Women To Care For War Babies

Philadelphia, June 5.—Thirty or more American women physicians will be sent to Europe to aid in the care of war babies and their mothers, according to plans launched here yesterday by the alumnae of the Women's Medical College.

Wounded Soldiers Fill Turk Capital

Washington, June 5.—Wounded soldiers are arriving continuously in Constantinople in such large numbers that the Turkish authorities there are unable to cope with the situation, according to American ambassador Morgenthau at Constantinople, in a communication to the American Red Cross appealing for additional supplies. Mr. Morgenthau, who is chairman of the American Red Cross chapter there reports under date of May 8, that there were then in Constantinople alone over 4,000 wounded soldiers, and that more were arriving daily. "The conditions here are very bad," the ambassador said. "I have never been brought in contact with so many wounded men and they are such a brave lot, that they bear their pains without complaint."

STEEL TRUST DECISION WILL BE APPEALED

Washington, June 5.—Department of Justice officials were today studying the decision of the federal district court at Trenton, which dismissed the government's suit for the dissolution of the United States Steel Corporation with the intention of taking an appeal to the supreme court. Formal announcement that an appeal would be taken was made by Attorney General Gregory, following the receipt by him of the full text of the district court's decision. He also said that although the case against the steel corporation was instituted by the previous administration, he was in complete accord with the view of the law on which it was based. Administration officials who regard the proceeding as one of the most important ever brought under the Sherman anti-trust law are said to be in full agreement that an appeal should be taken.

ENGLAND RAIDED

(Continued from Page 1.) eastern and southern forts, which were the last to fall. It is generally admitted that the larger part of the Russian forces in Przemysl was able to effect a retreat eastward by defending the positions toward the south. This checked the attacking army of General Von Boehm-Ermolli and temporarily prevented the complete encircling of the city. Although the railroad line along which the retreat occurred was under the fire of field guns, they were too far away to be effective. Apparently the city suffered little during the Russian occupation. Huge stores of provisions were covered and a large amount of war material was captured. Immediately after the occupation of Przemysl, Gen. Von Mackensen's army pressed eastward. It encountered the Russian rear guards on the heights near Melnik, where fighting is still in progress. The Teutonic allies have succeeded, however, in joining the forces along a continuous front 15 miles. The front line from Gussakow to Voldava previously received its length and its irregularity because of the necessity of including the ring of the Przemysl forts. Then it was 50 miles long. Now it is a straight line between the two points and not more than 15 miles long. With this center of the Galician operations marking time, the Germans are described here as being forced back on their extreme left near the lower San and as advancing toward the Diester fortifications on the right. This gives the situation as a whole the character of a slow pivoting movement with Przemysl as the center.

FRENCH REPORT

Paris, June 5.—The French war office this afternoon issued the following statement of the progress of hostilities: "The enemy delivered last night three violent counter attacks against the sugar refinery of Souchez and the trenches to the north and to the south of this position; they were repulsed and in their first effort particularly they suffered very heavy losses. 'We remain masters of every one of the positions conquered by us. 'Last night also we took possession of a German position to the northwest of the roadside inn known as the Cabaret Rouge, one kilometer (two-thirds of a mile) to the south of Souchez. 'There was great activity last night on the part of the artillery in the entire sector to the north of Arras. 'Along the remainder of the front there is nothing new."

REGETS "ACCIDENT" THAT SANK GULFLIGHT

Washington, June 5.—Germany in a note cabled to the state department yesterday by Ambassador Gerard at Berlin expressed regret that through "an unfortunate accident," a German submarine had torpedoed the American steamship Gulflight and declared itself "ready to furnish full recompense for the damage thereby sustained by American citizens."

ATTORNEY RESIGNS

(Continued from Page 1.) $20,000 fees for services in settlement of claims of the government in the old Capital City Dairy company receivership case, were let before Judge Sater today. The motion to vacate the order allowing was filed yesterday by R. W. Childs, special counsel for the department of justice in the name of Attorney General Gregory and asserted that acceptance of the fees under the circumstances was "peculiarly improper."

CARRANZA IS TO REPLY FAVORABLY TO WILSON

Washington, June 5.—Unofficial advice received here from Vera Cruz, saying that General Carranza would reply favorably to President Wilson's statement calling upon the heads of the warring factions in Mexico to restore peace in the southern republic, gave renewed hope to administration officials today of an ultimate solution of the problem.

General Carranza is the first one of the heads of the contending factions to be heard from directly concerning the president's warning. Officials have heard indirectly from Gen. Villa through his representatives that he was favorable to the president's proposal. General Carranza's reply, it was said, was being prepared by Juan Estrada, constitutionalist foreign minister, and would be delivered to John P. Sullivan, President Wilson's personal representative in Mexico, probably by Monday. The reply, the advice said, would be "receptive, friendly and serene," in tone. Carranza, it was said, intended to interpret the president's warning as a tacit hint that he was the man best fitted to assume ascendancy in Mexico and most likely to receive recognition by Washington, once the constitutionalist returned to Mexico City.

Bids For Printing

Scioto's Champion Speller Made Good Showing In Contest

Carl Titus, of Madison township, Scioto county's champion speller, arrived home at noon Saturday from the state spelling contest, which was held at Columbus Friday. Young Titus made a splendid showing in the contest, and is being congratulated on all sides. He was among the 33 contestants who spelled the first 5000 words correctly, and who were eligible for the written contest Friday evening. Of the thirty-three, 15 were high school students, a direct violation of the rules as outlined to the local school authorities, which prohibited all pupils who had graduated from the elementary grades. Titus was an eighth grade pupil. The winner was a high school graduate and had taught school two years, according to local men who attended the contest. In the final test of 100 words, all of them "jaw-breakers," young Titus spelled 74 correctly. The winner of the first prize spelled 87 correctly, while the lowest prize-winner spelled 18 correctly. Young Titus was accompanied to Columbus by E. O. McCowen, county school superintendent, and Sampson D. Eckhart, principal of the New Boston schools. They were tremendously pleased at his showing.

REGRETS "ACCIDENT" THAT SANK GULFLIGHT

Washington, June 5.—Germany in a note cabled to the state department yesterday by Ambassador Gerard at Berlin expressed regret that through "an unfortunate accident," a German submarine had torpedoed the American steamship Gulflight and declared itself "ready to furnish full recompense for the damage thereby sustained by American citizens."

In the same communication the German foreign office said it had not yet been possible to clear up fully the cause of the American steamer Gulflight reported attacked by a German aeroplane and asked that the United States communicate the information in its possession concerning this incident. Blame for the attack on the Gulflight was placed by the foreign office upon the proximity of two British patrol boats and the absence from the steamers free-board of the distinctive markings usually carried by neutral ships in the war zone. "That the attacked steamer carried the American flag," the note added, "was first observed at the moment of firing the shot."

SUFFRAGISTS GATHER IN WINDY CITY

Chicago, June 5.—Suffragists from all parts of the country are arriving to attend a conference of the National Women's Suffrage Association, which opens tomorrow. The meeting will continue until Wednesday. More than 200 prominent suffragists are expected to attend. Chief of the subjects to be discussed, it was announced, is the question of policy of the national association toward the next congressional campaign. The national association favors the Shafroth amendment calling for a referendum of the states on the question of suffrage, while the congressional union for woman suffrage favors the Brice-McCord amendment to the pending suffrage bill. This means a call for a constitutional amendment without referendum.

178 SHELLS DROPPED ON ROYAL CAMP

London, June 5.—A Reuter dispatch from Amsterdam says telegrams from Berlin state the aerial attack made by French aviators on the headquarters of the German crown prince resulted in several men being killed by bombs but that otherwise it was unsuccessful. A French statement says twenty-nine aeroplanes bombarded the headquarters of the crown prince the morning of that day. They were said to have dropped 178 shells and several thousand darts.

"—power of a locomotive"

Like a giant's strength in a man's body, the high speed, long stroke, valve-in-head motor with overhead camshaft gives the Chalmers New Six an abundance of vitality and competency.

And because of the unusual efficiency of the transmitting mechanism, this energy reaches the rear wheels—where it counts.

Result: The car has the power of a locomotive. It climbs hills like a chamois. It gets away like a racer.

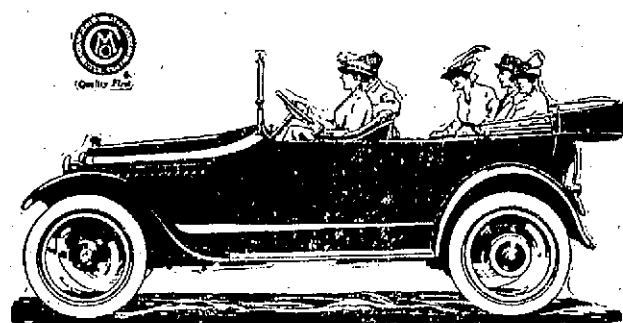

An entirely new type of spring suspension makes the Chalmers New Six ride like a Pullman.

Come in and see it and let us show you other signally superior features which this car possesses.

"High Yaller's" Trail Is Cold; Alleged Gunman Baffles Police

Police Chief W. T. McCarty went to Cincinnati early Saturday to spend the day there investigating clues as to the whereabouts of "High Yaller," the alleged gunman in the Baucus murder case.

The police officials are running down every clue obtained by them, but thus far all have fizzled out. One clue will have "High Yaller" seen in some remote camp in the mountain fastnesses of Virginia, another at some isolated section in Central Kentucky, another at some place in Newport, Ky., but when investigated the reports prove unfounded. It is believed by the officials that there are some negroes here in Portsmouth who know exactly where "High Yaller" is, but it is impossible to obtain any information from them, and it is now thought the chief hope of learning anything about him is in verifying something out of some of his women associates in Cincinnati.

ATE THIRTY BANANAS

THEN FRED GOT SICK

Fred Smith, assistant operator at the Arena theatre does not care if he never sees another banana, after his experience of last night when on a wager with George Elberfeld that he could eat five dozen within two hours, he managed to devour thirty big specimens of the luscious fruit.

Up to this point, Smith, who is considerable of a gourmand, felt fine and dandy, and it looked as though he would win the wager.

He ate thirty, too, within the space of one hour and ten minutes. Picking up his thirty-first banana, nature rebelled and Smith became so deathly sick that he imagined he heard the angels singing. He didn't exactly throw up his toes but he was just about as thoroughly cleaned out as though a stomach pump had been used. It is no wonder that a banana does not look good to him now.

SOCIETY

Misses Winnie Krauser and Selma Lindemeyer were the committee in charge of last evening's meeting of the Literary Social of the Sophomore class of the high school, which met with Miss Fern Curry Wheeler at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Sowers, on Lincoln Hill. The evening was spent in games after which refreshments were served. Fruit punch was served during the evening. Miss Emma Kramer, who organized the society at the beginning of the school year, was presented with a pretty picture and a cluster of beautiful flowers.

Fall Festival Association Meets At Washington Hotel

For the purpose of sifting out the best attractions which have applied for contracts, to discuss ways and means to have promoters of the Korn Karnival here join the Southern Ohio Fall Festival Association, officials of this newly formed organization met at the Washington hotel Friday night and discussed a number of important matters affecting their shows.

It was announced that a determined effort would be made to have Portsmouth and Chillicothe come into the organization, which would then be in position to offer many of the attractions a six week's engagement. The officials figure that a much better contract could be secured should Portsmouth and Chillicothe join the association.

F. C. Seerest, of Chillicothe, one of the real live wires of the Chillicothe Fall Festival, acted as chairman of last night's meeting. Portsmouth was represented by L. F. Howell, secretary of the Apple Show, Henry Hunter, Charles Folt and Rodney Neckamp. Jackson was represented by Dan P. Coll, John P. McDonald, Lee B. Hartlage, Sam Crossland and David Armstrong. ### Rev. Brooks In Texas

John McMillan, superintendent of the Portsmouth Gas company, is in receipt of a letter from Rev. Crayton S. Brooks, former minister of the First Christian church of this city, who is now conducting a big revival at Longview, Texas. Rev. Brooks states that the meeting is the best ever held at that place and that so far 74 converts have made the good confession. He expects to close the meetings Sunday night, when he will go to Seattle, Wash., for a revival effort. He adds that it is 96 in the shade but cool at night. He sends his best regards to all his inquiring friends.

Fix Up Playgrounds

Mill street children have fitted up an improvised play ground of their own at the foot of Gay street. It is located on the river bank near the water's edge. A "teeter-totter" is one of the chief pleasure giving devices.

Wm. West Gets Job On Election Board, Is Named Saturday

Columbus, Ohio, June 5.—Secretary of State Hildebrandt today announced the appointment of William West, Portsmouth, to be a member of the Scioto County Board of Elections. Mr. West will fill the vacancy caused by the death of Dr. J. B. Ray. His term will end May 1, 1916.

Mr. West was endorsed by the Democratic central committee at a recent meeting and later secured the endorsement of a majority of the members of the executive committee. As the recommendation was not made within five days required by law the appointment was held up for some time. Under the law Secretary of State Hildebrandt could have named any one he saw fit and there was much scurrying around of various candidates in an effort to secure influence with Hildebrandt. He finally decided to follow the recommendation of the committee.

Mr. West is a plumber and has been an active Democrat for a number of years. He will take his seat as a member of the board of elections as soon as his commission arrives.

Famous Water Shows Coming To The City

Arrangements have been concluded for the great Rice and Dore Water Shows to exhibit at Portsmouth on Saturday, June 12 foot of Market street.

This amusement enterprise is the newest, most novel and interesting out door exhibition ever invented, conceived and produced by these master showmen. For several years this novel aquatic show has toured all the principal cities, pleasing the multitude by its inherent value as an attraction fully worthy of its vast patronage. The public here can absolutely rely on the value of the moderate admission made for giving more than full value.

All kinds of words and advance reading notices preliminary to the appearance of this well known water show will have their endorsement doubled after the opening exhibition. It is becoming to enhance on the presentation of a program so replete with novelty, fun and skill.

The great water pantomime "Neptune's Daughter" is given in a regulation circus ring by an expert company of over fifty people, all famous for their records in an aquatic program.

Officials Report The City In Good Shape

That the general health of the city is better, that deaths have become fewer in Portsmouth and that citizens are becoming proficient in fire prevention are some of the claims made by city officials incident to their monthly reports.

Dr. W. W. Smith, city health officer, reported Saturday that the general health of the city was excellent with but four cases of contagion and all but one of these were reported convalescing. The latest to be reported was a case of scarlet fever in the Brown home on Front street, between Market and Jefferson streets. Henry Prosch, city cemetery superintendent, reported that there were but 28 burials during May and that the number is lessening every month. His receipts for May amounted to $189.75.

Fire Chief W. A. McOut reported that the city fire department has not had a run for nineteen days. The last call was from box No. 31 at the time of the fire in the Oscar Ruark home on Fourth street. There have been a total of 48 runs in the past 159 days, with four in January, six in February, eighteen in March, fifteen in April and five in May. Nineteen of these were roof fires and most all were due to carelessness in piling waste and refuse into stoves or grates.

To The Graduates—Hail!

On Wednesday, June 10, fifty-two young men and women will be graduated from the Portsmouth High School. These young folks represent the survivors of the five hundred that entered the primary grades twelve years ago. The elements that prevented the others from achieving this high station—sickness, misfortune, economic necessity, removal of residence—have failed to keep the fortunate fifty-two from reaching their goal. * * * * * This is one of the important milestones of their entire lives. It is right and fitting that it should be commemorated by a reward in keeping with the occasion. That the reward in such case should be valuable is desirable. That it should be permanent and lasting is vital. * * * * * In each individual case the relatives of the graduates will desire to select a gift that conforms with these requirements. To the fulfillment of this wish our jewelry establishment is dedicated; and it recommends that the ideal gift of gifts is a handsome gold watch, suitably engraved with the date and the occasion. * * * * * In addition we are prepared to furnish all accessories, such as chains, fobs, lapel or belt chains, watch pins, dress chains, etc. The cost of a gold watch has been brought to a price within reason by the volume of our purchasing powers as time inspectors of the railroads. The beauty, utility and life long service of our watches makes them the ideal gift for the graduate.

Manhattan Beauty In Its New Dress

Alex Clucales, proprietor of the Manhattan Restaurant, is all smiles these days. And he has a right to smile, for the restaurant has undergone extensive repairs and is now recognized as one of the most modern, best equipped and most beautiful institutions of its kind in Southern Ohio. In fact there are few cities in the state the size of Portsmouth that can boast of a finer restaurant than the Manhattan.

Mr. Clucales has expended $2,000 in making the improvements. He believes that his patrons deserve the best that he can give them and he has not counted the cost in giving them the best that money could afford. A new tile floor, costing upwards of $500.00 has been laid, the ceilings and sidewalls beautiful and harmoniously frescoed, while the new electric lamps that have been wired around the walls makes the interior a thing of beauty and a joy forever. Everything is immaculate clean and the interior has a most restful and inviting appearance.

The Manhattan restaurant has been remodeled completely throughout. A new refrigerator has been installed, while new steel and modern ranges have been placed in position, giving the capable chef all that is required to serve entrees in the best possible manner. Mr. Clucales stated Saturday morning that the restaurant would have a grand opening Sunday, when a special dinner would be prepared and served.

Upwards of fourteen men are employed at the Manhattan restaurant, everyone of whom is well fed and well paid. Mr. Clucales has much confidence in the future of Portsmouth and the repairs shows that he believes in keeping abreast of the times. He is a splendid citizen, a credit to the town and a restaurant man who thoroughly knows his business. More success to him.

FILING PETITIONS FOR VARIOUS OFFICES

With the last day of filing nominating petitions only five days off, candidates are beginning to file their petitions with Clerk Distel of the board of elections. Primary elections are held only in Portsmouth and New Boston, but a number of candidates in the rural districts are already filing their petitions for the November election. The petitions for offices in Portsmouth and New Boston are for the August primary.

The following petitions had been filed at noon Saturday:

Portsmouth—A. J. Finney, Republican, justice of the peace; Henry L. Cline, Republican, justice of the peace; Fred W. Baerman, Democrat, justice of the peace; Harry J. Baker, Republican, constable; William Wolfe, Republican, constable.

New Boston—J. S. Davis, Socialist, mayor; Frank Hall, Socialist, treasurer; Arthur Smith, Socialist, clerk; James Semones, Wado Hensley, Allen Griffin, Rufus Hoppas, Ernest Stratton, gust.

Martin Hall, John Noel, all Socialists, candidates for council; Lewis Jenkins, William H. Wheeler, John Emmert, Republicans, candidates for council; William I. Davis, Democrat, for city marshal.

Clay township—William F. Midgough, Republican, for township trustee.

Nile township—John Schaffer, Republican, township trustee; Sol J. Merriam, Republican, justice of the peace.

Brush Creek township—James Elmore, Republican, trustee.

Next week will witness a rush of petitions, as both the Republican and Democratic parties will have full tickets in the field in Portsmouth and New Boston, from mayor to constable. The time is now up Thursday, June 10, at midnight.

The board of elections Saturday placed an order with the Columbus Blank Book company for poll books and tally sheets to be used in the primaries in Athens, (Via London) June 5—

GREEK KING WILL UNDERGO OPERATION

Announcement was made today that King Constantine of Greece had a change for the worse, and that another operation on his Majesty will have to be performed.

The operation will necessitate the removal of one or more of the king's ribs. The temperature of the patient last evening was 99.4; pulse 102 and respiration 20.

The King of Greece has been suffering from pleurisy for several weeks and his condition has been far from satisfactory. He underwent an operation the latter part of May, after which he suffered a relapse. The reports concerning his progress have been more or less contradictory, but recently his condition is said to have been critical. King Constantine's wife is a sister of Emperor William of Germany.

BODY IS FOUND IN THE RIVER

Cincinnati, June 5.—A body which has been identified as that of E. J. Bornheim, of this city, was found in the Ohio river on the Kentucky shore yesterday.

The body had evidently been in the water for several weeks. Bornheim was 37 years old. How he got into the river is mere conjecture, as he had no trouble except that it is said he suffered from a slight nervous affliction previous to his disappearance.

Decisions Affirmed

The common pleas court of Scioto county was affirmed in two decisions handed down Friday by the court of appeals, copies of which reached the clerk's office Friday afternoon.

The higher court sustained the action of the lower court in denying the petition of David Jones and Abigail Jones against Chandler K. Jones and Rebecca Jones, a suit involving ownership of three tracts of land in Valley township, and ordered the petition dismissed. The case had been taken up on appeal. Bannan and Bannan Meyer represented the plaintiffs, and Milner, Miller and Searl and Frank W. Moulton the defendants.

The decision of the lower court in the case of the late late Transfer and Storage company against the Portsmouth Street Railway and Light company, in which the plaintiff was awarded $300 for loss of miles electrocuted on Washington street about a year ago, was also affirmed. The defendant's attorneys carried up the case to the higher court on alleged error, which was not held well taken by the three judges. The action of the court of appeals in this case is final and the judgment will have to be paid. The attorneys were Bannan and Bannan Meyer for the Interstate company, and Milner, Miller and Searl for the street railroad company.

CROWN PRINCE'S ARMY TO BE GODFATHERS TO GIRL

Berlin, June 5.—The Crown Prince William's infant daughter is to have the whole of the Crown Prince's army as her godfathers. Announcement to this effect is made in the Vossische Zeitung, which says:

"We are informed that, in addition to other personages, the Crown Prince and Princess have chosen as godparents the whole of the Fifth Army, of which the Crown Prince is the head. The choice shows afresh what a beautiful relationship of confidence exists between the leader and his army."

Ohio's Champ Speller To Challenge Others

Columbus, June 5.—Claude O. Gossett, 20-year-old Highland county high school youth, who yesterday won the title of Ohio's champion speller in the state-wide spelling-bee held here, was ready today to challenge winners of similar contests in other states. Formal challenges were prepared at offices of the Agricultural Commission, under whose auspices the contest was held and A. P. Sandles, president of the commission, announced they would be issued next week. At least nine other states are planning such spelling bees, following the example of Ohio, he said.

Young Gossett today received congratulations from state officials and from many of the 75 contestants whom he spelled down in a grueling test lasting from early morning till shortly before midnight. Much merriment was evident here today over the spelling of the word "auspices," on the official button presented by the agricultural commission to each contestant in the spelling bee. Printed in bold black type appeared this word, "Aus-

WILD CATTLE PLAY BIG PART IN ITALIAN CHARGE

Rome, (Via Paris), June 5.—Fifty wild cattle materially aided Italian troops in capturing a strong Austrian position on Monte Corno, according to the Corriere D'Italia. The Austrian garrison had surrounded itself with a high barbed wire entanglement against which the Italians drove the cattle. Startled by exploding bombs the animals attacked the entanglements with horns and hooves and in a quarter of an hour had swept away the obstacles so that the Italians were able to gain the summit easily.

The charge of the cattle, for which no previous military experience had prepared them, is said to have stamped the Austrians.

CINCINNATI PROTESTS

Cincinnati, June 5.—Cincinnati prepared to voice a protest to Wilson and the department of justice against the removal of the district attorney from this city to Columbus. Hardly had the news of the announcement been given that Attorney-elect Bolin would make Columbus his headquarters than the city organizations prepared to enter a protest.

The civic council of club presidents, composed of the heads of practically all of the city's organizations, met at the Ben Franklin club and passed a resolution of protest against the change. The president of the Business Men's Club declared his intention of calling a meeting of the board of directors of that organization at once and having their protest forwarded.

The removal of the office of the new district attorney will create an unusual situation in the southern district of Ohio. It will be the first time in history that the district attorney of Southern Ohio district has not had his office at Cincinnati.

LACKS CONFIDENCE IN JAPANESE MINISTER

Tokio, June 5.—The opposition pushing its anti-cabinet campaign today introduced in the House of Representatives a resolution expressing lack of confidence in Viscount Kanetake Kura, minister of the interior.

The charge is made that although Viscount Kura was charged with the duty of seeing that the elections were conducted in an honest and impartial manner, he himself corruptly received a present of 1,000 yen ($500) at the March election from a candidate for membership in the house. The basis of this accusation are found in a political suit brought against Viscount Kura by the manager of the conservative party. The matter is to be discussed Monday.

All Babies Destined to Great Achievement

To be born is to be great. For there are possibilities in every tiny human infant. And for his parents every one should remember that whatever is done to aid the mother, to relieve her of distress during her trying months, will surely be of marked benefit to the child.

Among the sterling aids is a splendid external remedy known as "Mother's Friend." It is what is called an emmenagogue. It is applied to the abdominal muscles, gently rubbed by your own hand, guided by your own mind. It makes the muscles pliant, they expand quite naturally and the blood upon the surface is such that they adjust themselves to the process of expansion so that pain from this source is almost eliminated. Women who use "Mother's Friend" are relieved of a great many minor distresses, all impurities disappear and they are free from "sketches" no longer disturb the night. It is well named "Mother's Friend." Get a bottle today of any drug store. Then at once write for a most interesting and instructive book for all prospective mothers. ## Bliss Knapp Delivers Fine Talk On Christian Science

Bliss Knapp, C. S. B., member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., Friday night delivered a splendid lecture in the Sun theatre, which was appreciated by an audience of good size.

Hon. Theo. K. Funk acted as chairman of the meeting, which was given under the auspices of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of this city.

The speaker, in part, said:

Healing Law
The first man in Bible history to know God well enough to heal sickness and sin was Moses, and it came about by his recognition that the divine power operates through law. Before that he knew God only as the great "I am," but that was not sufficient to win confidence in himself as the messenger of God. The necessity for him to speak the truth about God so convincingly that the people would actually believe what he said, was the occasion for God to reveal his healing nature by two distinct signs. The first was with the rod by which was proved the divine supremacy over personified evil. The second was the healing of leprosy. Perhaps those two were selected because none but the power of God has ever been known to destroy leprosy and sin. But that exhibition of divine power over sickness and sin revealed to Moses the existence of a well defined law of healing which enabled him, thereafter, to employ the divine power, guided by the intelligence of a well-defined law, in healing leprosy and serpent bites. It revealed to him the existence of certain facts concerning the healing nature of God in which no variation has ever been perceived. It marked the existence of an unchanging law of healing with which human beings had been hitherto unacquainted. It revealed something so definite and tangible about the nature of God that the people believed him just as God said they would.

God Is Truth
Now that which Moses saw in the healing power of God was the Truth; whereupon he declared, "Thou art a God of truth." David later declared in the psalms, "Thy law is the truth." And Jesus indicated the intimate relation that exists between Truth and the healing law, when he said, "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." That is, a knowledge of God, not as a human form, but as Truth has a healing effect. Mrs. Eddy has therefore accepted that scriptural definition that God is Truth, and also its intimate relation to law; for she has written in Science and Health, "Not personal intercommunion but divine law is the communicator of truth, health and harmony to earth and humanity."

It is true that every system of religion known to man claims to be the promulgation of revealed truth; but that which differentiates the demonstrated revelation of Jesus Christ from all others is its power to give life and to restore health. It is the life-giving power in Christian truth which makes it demonstrable in healing sickness and sin. One school of philosophers has pronounced the theory that truth is two-fold: that there is one truth called reason, and another truth called revelation, but that revelation has no law and is lacking in a reasonable explanation. The result is agnosticism. Christianity, on the other hand, teaches there is but one Truth and this Truth is God. It teaches moreover that divine Truth is expressed through law which may be understood and demonstrated in Christian healing. This teaching reconciles reason and revelation in the oneness of Truth.

True Worship
Some may feel they have lost their God in thinking of Him as Truth; but Jesus declared in all earnestness that "The true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth." That may be clarified by another of Jesus' sayings: "None is good save one, that is God." Now the spirit or law of infinite good is goodness, and the true worshippers can worship infinite good only through goodness. For example: No one goes directly to the basic meaning of mathematics. He must go by way of its rules or laws. The simple law that two and two are four mediates between the basic meaning of mathematics and the prospective student. Even so no one can go directly to infinite good. He must go by way of goodness, which is the law or attribute of infinite good. That is, he must worship infinite good in the understanding of goodness. Mrs. Eddy has said in Science and Health, "A pure affection takes form in goodness." Then as one entertains an affection for others that is pure and constant, it takes form in goodness, which is an attribute of God. In this simple process he comprehends the law of goodness, and in the understanding of it he reaches to the actual recognition of infinite good. In the same spiritual understanding of divine law shall one worship the God and Father who is Spirit and Truth.

The Comforter

Before Jesus went away He promised us another Comforter. That no misconception might arise, he took the precaution to explain the nature of this promised Comforter. It should not be a man, nor a person, but rather the impersonal "Spirit of truth." He explained further that the "Spirit of truth" would lead mankind into all truth, even to the very source of truth, which is God, and it would testify of him. Now the spirit of Truth is its law—the law which communicates God's healing power to humanity. That law, moreover, requires a science which can interpret it and be reasonably understood. Since the law is divine, its Science must be a divine or Christian Science. That is what Christian Science is—the spiritual understanding of divine law as applied to the needs of humanity. It is not an invention. It is the discovery of what has always been true, and what always must be the real Comforter to suffering humanity.

TO ADDRESS THE G. A. R. MEMBERS

The Waverly Watchman this week says:

"On Sunday, June 13, Mark Crawford, a young Republican of Portsmouth, will address the G. A. R. of Pike county in this city. Crawford is the recently demised candidate for congressman from the Sixth District last fall."

CONFERENCE DEGREE

The Order of The Temple was conferred upon two candidates, Raymond York and William Gableman, at a meeting of Calvary Commandery, Knights Templar, Friday evening. There was a large attendance, and the meeting was followed by a sumptuous banquet in the banquet hall. Charles P. Gableman, of Waverly, was a guest of the Commandery.

Real War News

When we look today into the realms of labor the world over we see a picture of wholesale slaughter, suicides, manifestations of insanity, unemployment, destitution, starvation, and intense suffering; we listen and hear the frightful groans of men, dying in the prime of life; the agonizing cries of the wounded and sick; the heartrending sobbing of widows, mothers and children; the plaintive sighs and deying curses of innocent prisoners; the mad shouting of dehumanized beings engaged in man killing! What has happened? Why all this misery? Has mother earth, who for centuries past so lavishly provided for its children, suddenly refused to support them any longer? Or have the mysterious powers of nature contrived to annihilate the human race and its wonderful creations? Or is it the fiendish work of an angry and merciless God?

No old Mother Earth is still on the job, producing necessities of life in greater abundance than ever before. The sun, the moon, and the stars are still traveling peacefully in their orbits as of yore; the forces of nature, subdued and harnessed to a great extent by the marvelous ingenuity of man, are behaving nicely, and the gods can establish a perfect alibi.

What we witness is an example of the inhumanity of man to man. It is the culmination of a system of exploitation that has been fed for centuries by the sweat and blood of a subject class, the logical sequel of a civilization that has been reared upon the ignorance, superstition and fear of the toiling masses. Millions of workers are arrayed against other millions of workers in the world's arena. Divided on geographical lines, unconscious of the real issues involved, and blindly obeying the commands of professional man killers, they are shooting, slashing and stabbing each other with deadly effect. Their real enemies, the beasts of royalty, are watching the combat from a safe distance, cynically gloating over the victims of a Nero. For nearly ten months this gigantic struggle has been going on and the end is not yet in sight. The battlefields are strewn thick with the bleeding, shell torn, mangled and quivering remains of what were once the flower of manhood. Hundreds of thousands have already been killed and hundreds of thousands have been sent to the hospitals, wounded, crippled or diseased. The corpse filled trenches stretch for hundreds of miles across the fertile plains of Europe. Numberless pleasant and peaceful homes have been reduced to black, battle scarred ruins. The whole of Belgium and parts of France, Germany, Russia, England, Austria, Poland and Servia have been utterly devastated and even where the conflict has not yet struck its death-dealing blows, there is untold suffering from unemployment and starvation. The whole world has been drawn into the vortex of a calamity without parallel in the annals of history; and the industrial depression, resulting from the war is being felt in the remotest corners of the earth.

French warfare has brought about a deadlock among the contending armies, and it seems as though the war might drag on for another year or so, and of course, while it lasts, hard times will prevail, the lying statements of the jingo press notwithstanding. From the standpoint of labor it is immaterial as to what nation started the conflagration; this phase of the question has been discussed ad nauseam in the capitalist, socialist, labor papers and magazines, and is still far from being settled. The fact of the matter is that war under existing conditions was inevitable, that all the warring countries were prepared for it, and that the workers more or less enthusiastically responded to the call of their respective governments in the delusion that they were going to fight for a worthy cause, to wit: The Germans for the preservation of "Kultur" (which they enjoyed having); the French and English for democracy (which does not exist); the Belgians and Serbians for national independence (which is of no benefit to them); and so forth. England, not having a conscript army, had to adopt other means than a mere appeal to patriotism to get the workers; as a result the masters of the bread discharged thousands of able-bodied men of military age, replacing them with women. In spite of these measures labor has not responded in sufficient numbers to satisfy the demands of the government, and it is very likely that conscription will be resorted to in the near future. It has been reported by reliable correspondents that the bourgeoisie and nobility have so far furnished more cannon fodder than the working class. This is significant and a hopeful sign of labor awakening. There are other encouraging news. The men engaged in the making of guns and ammunition have raised their wages, but they refuse to be speeded up, despite the frantic appeals of Lord Kitchener and other war lords. This may be unpatriotic, but it is very, very sensible indeed. The coal miners, transport workers and others have also used the opportunity to get a larger share of the good things of life. This aggressive and rebellious attitude unfortunately is not to be found in the other war-ridden countries. In Germany, France and Russia the workers seem to be in perfect accord with their government, fighting, starving and working all for the greater glory of the fatherland.

The latest developments in the war game may bring the carnage closer to our shores. We are beginning to understand what is meant by "uncivilized warfare." This thing was for a long time a conundrum to us; but now we commence to grasp the meaning of it. You see, it's this way; if an army of red trowsers men and an army of blue trowsers men line up for a mortal combat and shoot daylight out of each other, if of gunmen kill a score of minors and their wives and children, why, that is "Civilized Warfare." On the other hand, if for instance, an "indiscriminating" torpedo should snuff out the lives, or an airship be clumsy enough to drop a bomb on the precious heads of fashionable society, that would constitute "Uncivilized Warfare" and the "barbarians" responsible for the shocking crime must be brought to terms, even though it take the lives of another million to do it with.

Broken Ankle Leads To Love And Elopement

A case of love at first sight, culminated in the elopement to Veeceburg, Ky., and marriage Friday afternoon of Miss Hazel Klitch, aged 15 years, and William Fay, aged 27, of this city.

The runaways were united in marriage by County Judge J. M. Lee. They went to Veeceburg on an afternoon train and returned on an evening train and asked the bride's parents for forgiveness. That was the first intimation the latter had of what had taken place.

The youthful bride is a daughter of Herman Klitch, a well-known tailor of 915 Fourth street. The groom is a Lexington, Ky., carpenter, who has been located in Portsmouth since last fall. Shortly after his coming to this city he met with an accident, fracturing an ankle, and was laid up at a home opposite the Klitch residence.

Just two months ago the couple became acquainted and their friendship soon ripened into love. The news of their marriage leaked out shortly after their return to the city and they were treated to an old-fashioned belling. They expect to make their future home in Lexington, Ky.

DIAMOND REUNION

INTERNATIONAL MOTOR TRUCKS Are Practical Load Carriers

Model E, the latest addition to the International Motor Truck line, capacity 1,500 pounds.

International Motor Trucks are strictly commercial trucks whose size, power, design, transmission, tires, road clearance, construction and price are all the result of years of experience. Every known weakness has been eliminated. The trucks as they now stand will prove satisfactory for light hauling and quick deliveries in the hands of average drivers. All they require is the care and attention that must be given to every machine.

The present design of International Motor Trucks is an evolution. Every feature is based on the result of actual experience. They are built to do certain work in an efficient manner and with the greatest economy to their owners. Details of construction and size are yours for the asking.

You can get full information about these practical trucks by calling at the address below or dropping us a line.

Big Crowd At The D. Of A. Election

Semi-annual election of officers drew one of the largest crowds to the meeting of White Lily Council, Daughters of America Friday evening, that has attended in months. Over 200 members were present and enjoyed the friendly rivalry for some of the offices.

The newly elected officers are: Councillor, Estia Dixon; associate councillor, Cora Ray; vice-councillor, Belle Stewart; recording secretary, Anna M. West; assistant recording secretary, Mary Riggs; financial secretary, Mae Wright; treasurer, Mary E. meeting.

Boyles; warren, Kelley Adams; conductor, Alice Burke; inside sentinel, Lily Hester; outside sentinel, Thelma Cooper; trustee, Laurena Wonda; organist, Bertha Boyles; representatives to the State Council in August, Anna Ribble and Bertha Boyles; alternates, Margaret Anderson and Pearl Dixon.
One candidate, Mrs. Mollie McDaniel, was initiated at the meeting. The members were disappointed over the non-arrival of Mary E. Garlington, the state deputy, who was expected at the meeting.

FOOTPAD BUSY

Police received a report that an unknown white man was held up and robbed by a negro hobo at Wheelersburg, Friday night. The man is said to have been relieved of his open faced gold Elgin watch and pocket knife. The police were furnished with a description of the negro.

District Officer Praises M. W. of A.

The applications of three candidates were balloted upon favorably at the meeting of River City Camp, Modern Woodmen of America, Friday evening. They are Russell Puckett, George A. Gleim and Edward Kalb. They will be initiated at the next meeting.

An interested spectator at the meeting was Frank Mattis, of Zanesville, district deputy of the order. During the evening he made an interesting talk to the Camp, in which he praised highly the local officers and the work that they had been doing.

A big turnout of the members is expected Sunday afternoon at the annual memorial services of the camp at Greenlawn cemetery. They will meet at the lodge hall, Third and Chillicothe streets, at 1:30 o'clock and march in a body to the cemetery behind the City band. The program was given in full in Friday's Times.

Next Friday meeting business of special importance to the lodge will be transacted and a social session will be arranged by the social committee of the Camp.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS
Take a tablespoonful of Sals if Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.
The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but because of the over-eating of meat, they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.
When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jial Sals; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will feel fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is as large a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.
Jial Sals is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

There are three cardinal points of success. The first one is work; the second very much like the first, work, and the third like the first two, work!

I am very much afraid unless these above-mentioned are put to use something else but success will elude our effort. However, if you desire to descend the slippery steps of time and report all is well, you may look for me upon the busy highway of life tugging away at my job.

The Trustees Aids will serve refreshments after the lecture and every one will have an opportunity of speaking with him.

SUNDAY SCHOOL

Lesson X.—Second Quarter, For June 6, 1915.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, 11 Sam. xii, 22 to xlii, 7—Memory Verses, xlii, 1 & 7a. Golden Text, Ps. li, 10—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

Instead of assigning us a helpful lesson, such as chapter viii, which we briefly touched upon in our last, or the beautiful story of David's kindness to the son of Jonathan (chapter x), the committee has given us in this lesson one of the worst phases of the human heart, which is always and only selfish above all things and desperately wicked (Jer. xvii, 10). He who alone knows and can search the heart has written that all men are sinners and that there is none righteous—no, not one—but that Jesus Christ came into the world to save sinners and that the greatest sinners may be saved and the greatest backslider forgiven and restored. To find such a development of our sinful human nature in such a man as David after all that the Lord had done for him is truly humiliating and should lead us all to say, "Voe is me!" for who is there to whom the prophet might not say concerning this or some other phase of our sinful nature, "Thou art the man!" (Gen. vii, 1).

When we remember that "the thought of foolishness is sin" and that a sinful life is in the sight of God equal to a sinful act (Prov. xiv, 9; Matt. v, 28) and that, as G. H. Spurgeon said, "Whatever the Lord Jesus Christ would not think or say or do to sin," it leads one to cry out, "God be merciful to me, a sinner!" and to say, "If thou, Lord, shalt mark iniquities, O Lord, who shall stand?" (Luke xviii, 13; Ps. cxxx, 3, 4). But the comfort is that He can make the vilest sinner to note that, while the child yet lived, David fasted and wept and lay all night upon the earth, for he said, "Who can tell whether God will be gracious to me, that the child may live?" But when the child died and the will of God was known then he said, "Wherefore should I fast? Can I bring him back again? I shall go to him, but he shall not return to me" (Jeremi 13:20). When those dear to us are sick and we cannot tell what the will of God is for them and us it becomes us to wait earnestly upon Him for their health, but always in submission to His will. When He has made plain His will, whatever it may be, it becomes us to say, "Even so, Lord, be it unto thee." "As for God, His way is perfect" (Ps. xlii, 9; Ps. xlviii, 9). In verses 24, 25, we have the two names of Bathsheba's new child, Solomon and Jedidiah. The latter, as in the margin, signifies "beloved of the Lord," for the Lord loved him and sent by the hand of Nathan to name him. The Lord called him Solomon before he was born, saying to David, "Behold, a son shall be born to thee, whose name shall be Solomon; and I will give peace and quietness unto Israel in his days" (1 Chron. xlii, 9). He said, "His name shall be Solomon," which, according to the margin, means "peaceable." There are just seven men in the Bible story who were named before they were born—five in the Old Testament and two in the New Testament. Find the others and consider them. Let us give the rest of our time to the very suggestive story of Mephibosheth in chapter ix.

When David came to the kingdom he made inquiry for any who might be living of the house of Saul that he might show them kindness for Jonathan's sake. He found that there was a son of Jonathan who was lame on both feet, his nurse having let him fall when he was five years old as she took him up to feed with him at the time of his father's death (11 Sam. iv, 4). His being lame because of the fault of another reminds us that the whole race is lame on both feet because Adam let us all fall. He was at this time at Lo-dabar, which signifies no pasture, and that is where all sinners are. His name signifies the condition of every sinner. David sent to where he was and brought him into his presence, and Mephibosheth fell on his face and did reverence. So the sinner who brought face to face with the Saviour (what is by faith) feels like saying, as Peter did when overwhelmed with loving kindness, "I am a sinful man, O Lord" (Luke v, 8). David's restoring to him all that he had forfeited because of Saul reminds us that all we lost in Adam and more is given back to us in Christ and all in grace for His name's sake.

How beautiful to see Mephibosheth dwelling in Jerusalem and eating continually at the king's table, even though he continued lame on both feet (11, 12). Every average sinner is privileged to dwell by faith in Jerusalem, City of Peace, and to feast upon the good things provided by the king, but while we stay in these mortal bodies we will never get over our lameness, but will have to say to the end, "I know that in me—that is, in my flesh—dwelleth no good thing" (Rom. vii, 18). Some believers seem to take pleasure in talking of their lameness, their love is cold, their faith is weak, they are this and that and very miserable sinners. Better far to keep their lameness out of sight and enjoy and talk of the king's bounty.

CALLS IT PRETZEL

Prod L. Doerr says life is too short to try to pronounce Pretzel correctly so he has been calling it "Pretzel" and allowing it to go at that.

NEW SURVEYS

New petitions will be circulated and new surveys made for the proposed new three mile township between Arion and McDermott.

Children's Exercises At The 1st Christian Morning & Evening

Children's Day exercises at the First Christian church tomorrow, both morning and evening, promise to be attended by enormous crowds. Those who will participate in the exercises have their parts down to a fine point and the program will pass off smoothly.

The church has been beautifully and appropriately decorated for the occasion and everything is in happy attire. Mrs. C. M. Howland, chairman of the program committee, reports that everything is in perfect shape, and the little children in white will no doubt uphold the honor of the school, which has the reputation of putting on Children's Day programs second to none in Southern Ohio.

The attendance aim at Sunday school is 1200, and it certainly looks as though this mark would be reached. Rev. Oakley will teach the lesson to the adult classes, but both morning and evening sermons will be dispensed with. The Bible study session will be of short duration, followed by the exercises prepared by the children. At night the services will begin promptly at 7:30 o'clock and arrangements have been made to take a silver offering at the door. This is done in the hope the foreign missionary fund will be considerably augmented. The school and church hopes to raise $600.00 tomorrow. The Loyal Men's class has pledged more than $150.00 of this amount and they hope to make it an even $200 before the day is over. The Loyal Bereans are counting on giving $100.00. Providing the school raises $600.00, then the First Christian church will be known as a living link, supporting a missionary and his family in Japan. Let every person come prepared to help in this good work. It is quite a high mark the First Christian church and Bible school will shoot at, but Rev. Oakley has so enthused the membership that it really looks as though the money will be raised. The following program will be rendered by the children:

March and Song—"Onward Christian Soldiers."

Prayer—Father Bless the Little Children.

Scripture Lesson—By five boys.

Exercise—A Happy Time.

Exercise and Song—Roses.

Recitation—Some Strange Things—Myron Williams.

Recitation—The Blossoms—By Jenn Sheridan.

Song and Motions—Little Daisies—By primary.

Exercise—Children Across the Sea.

Song—Three Little Maids of Japan—By Fern, Muriel and Max; Ana Ayres.

Exercise—The New Cable.

Duet—Happy Summer Time—By Cora and Eva Applegate.

Song and Drill—In Japan.

Exercise—Buttercups.

Need Relief

Arrangements are under way to again warrant the John Smith family, of Mill street, to the county authorities for relief.

Smith is a tubercular but his wife has stood in the way of him entering any tubercular hospital for treatment.

BOARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank my friends for services rendered during the illness and death of my wife, Mrs. Ernest Green, and for the many beautiful floral remembrances and appreciation very much the kindness shown.

The mayor has received an invitation to attend the National Conference on City Planning to be held at Detroit, Mich., June 7, 8 and 9.

ALLEGED HER HUSBAND INSISTED SHE EMBARK ON A LIFE OF SHAME

That her husband had induced and encouraged her into seeking money from other men was the sensational charge made in police court Saturday by Mrs. Jessie Hukel, wife of Henry Hukel, a city cemetery employee, in defense of her misconduct, when she was caught with a young man giving the name of H. Foster, at Millbrook park, Wednesday night.

Hukel and his wife had been brought into court by Officer Theo. Branham because they were warring over a division of their furniture, but more particularly because the woman had dropped a remark that what she had done Wednesday night was at the instance of her husband. It was more for the purpose of verifying this that Branham brought them into court for investigation.

Mrs. Hukel, who said her maiden name was Prather and that she originally lived at South Point, denied that she had started any argument about the furniture. She said she had regarded it as strange that her husband returned home so early Saturday, and when she questioned him about it, he told her of his intention of leaving her. Only a few hours before he had kissed her good-bye and was seemingly in the best of humor. She said she knew of her arrest and imprisonment at New Boston and that they had since been living together as man and wife. The woman then launched into the remarkable story of her downfall, allegedly brought about by her husband.

She said she married Hukel a year ago last March, that they got along nicely and he was in every way satisfied with her, but that of late he complained considerably about some debts. She said he seemed to feel that these had to be paid right away and wanted her to go out and make some money. He got mad, she said, because she showed no disposition to act upon his suggestion, or as she put it, "because I didn't make good."

One evening while they were at Millbrook park together, she said, he remarked that if he were a woman he wouldn't think of coming away from there without at least ten dollars to the good and upon their arrival home suggested to her that she return to the park with him, that he would sit in some secluded spot while she would seek the attentions of other men. She said she reluctantly went out because he exacted a promise from her to go.

She said that when she came home after her arrest and several hours' imprisonment his first act was to open and examine her pocket book and he asked her what had become of her money. She said she told him that Foster had applied the five dollars that he promised her to the payment of her fine. Hukel, she said, then became angry.

Hukel all the while his wife was testifying twitted uneasily in his chair, repeatedly trying to interrupt her and when his turn came, made emphatic denial of her accusations. He did admit, however, having had conversations with his wife as to the plight some women are placed in when their husbands die or become disabled, and that he told her never to enter upon such a course "without she just had to."

He said he had given her the privilege of visiting Millbrook park but denied that he meant for her to engage the attentions of other men, but after the happening of Wednesday night he told her he cared no longer if she continued doing so.

The court held that both were equally to blame and he therefore ordered Hukel to take her back home and not dispose of the furniture, but to continue living with her and instruct her in a different way.

The couple live on Fourth street, above Offshore street. Mrs. Hukel has been married before and is the mother of five children by a former marriage, who live with their father in another part of the city. Asked what she did towards keeping up ways give them good advice and frequently did sewing for them. The couple quit the court room together.

Clayton Act Will Figure In A Local Suit, States Klein

The Clayton act, legalizing labor union, will be brought into test in the trial of the permanent dissolution and injunction suit filed against the Building Trades Council and its subordinate bodies Thursday, according to Nicholas Klein, Cincinnati attorney, who is chief counsel for the defendants.

The Cincinnati Times-Star Friday evening had the following article about the suit, together with a brief statement from Mr. Klein:

"Attorney Nicholas Klein, received a telephone message Friday to go to Portsmouth, Ohio, to defend the Building Trades' Alliance there in the litigation arising out of the labor dispute. Klein says the legal question at issue is of importance to labor unions generally. He said: 'Employers at Portsmouth are endeavoring to have the courts order the Building Trades' Alliance there to disband, claiming that it is in restraint of trade and a violation of the anti-trust laws. Our claim is that the organization of the unions is protected by the Clayton act, which distinctly legalizes the unions. The salient question is to whether the Clayton act does protect the unions, as we claim it does, will be decided in this case.'"

Nothing new has developed in the controversy between the local building contracting firms and the Building Trades Council, which PHILADELPHIA SAILS. New York, June 5.—The American Line steamer Philadelphia sailed for Liverpool on schedule time today after an agreement was said to have been reached between the company and the engineers in regard to a demand for a 100 percent increase in wages. The engineers, it was said, had agreed to accept increases of $50 a month with the privilege of leaving the ship at Liverpool. The Philadelphia carried 675 passengers, its full capacity.

A Fashion Hint.

Widowhood is especially interesting at this season of the year, when warm weather is fast approaching. One may be able to get along during the winter without a long-sleeved robe of this character and not seriously feel its need, but that is not possible during the summer. The full length, long-sleeved robe, such as the one pictured, is an advantage over the shorter one, in that it can be used, and appear well, without it being necessary to dress as completely as is required when the short sack is worn.

WITH THE SICK

Edgar Miller, the South Portsmouth young man, who was badly hurt by the breaking of a boom while uprooting trees, is reported steadily improving.

Harry Hamilton, who has been very ill with typhoid fever at his home on the West Side, is now reported improving.

Nias Lauther, of Clover street, who has been ill one week with grip, is slowly improving.

Police Officer Grant Goings was off duty Friday night on account of the illness of his wife.

There is no improvement in the condition of John Dunn, well known N. & W. engineer, who continues in a critical condition at

Can You Sleep?

"I was bedfast for two years," writes Mrs. M. Fisher, of Athensville, Ill. "For a long time I was so nervous I couldn't sleep. I had women's troubles, pains in my sides and shoulders and indigestion. I had several doctors and was in the hospital for some time. I tried CARDUI and by the time I had taken the second bottle, I could stay up all day, and sleep sound at night. I took three bottles in all, and felt as well as I ever had. I wish every ailing woman would try CARDUI as I did. I cannot speak too highly of it."

BEFORE and AFTER

BEFORE
AFTER

A pair of wheels of a car of N. & W. first 85 climbed the rail at Sardinia late Friday night. The train was delayed forty minutes. Conductor C. C. Norris and Engineer J. E. Smith were in charge.

The S. M. Miles delivery truck got stuck in the mud on Walnut street near Chestnut about 11 o'clock Saturday. The rear wheels were almost covered and the rear end of the body of the car was resting on the ground. After working in the knee deep mud for about an hour Driver Mack Miles managed to proceed onto New Boston.

The annual meeting of the N. & W. Surgical association will be held at Old Point, Va., June 10 and 11. All N. & W. surgeons and dependent members of their families are expected to make the trip. Special Pullman cars will be carried on trains No. 16 and No. 26 June 9 for surgeons from points along the Cincinnati and Columbus lines. They will be a part of No. 16 out of Roanoke 13 Norfolk, Va., June 10. A steamer of the Old Dominion Steamship company will leave the wharf near Union station to take 15 surgeons across the harbor to Old Point.

They will leave Old Point immediately after lunch on June 11 and take a steamer to Ocean View where dinner will be served that evening. Special street cars will be provided to carry the surgeons from Ocean View to the Terminal station. A special train will leave Norfolk at 8:45 June 11 and from Roanoke the Pullmans will be run as a part of No. 15.

Robert McCordie, N. & W. stenographer returned to work Saturday. He was in Cincinnati Friday to attend the graduation of his sister who is a nurse.

U. S.-MEXICO BORDER PATROL STRENGTHENED; AMERICANS ARE WARNED TO LEAVE GERMANY

MYSTERIOUS MESSAGE DELIVERED IN BERLIN

London, June 5.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company, from Amsterdam says:
"A message received here from Berlin states that the American colony in Berlin has been warned officially that diplomatic relations between Germany and the United States may be broken off in forty-eight hours and that the people should hold themselves in readiness to leave Germany."

Washington, June 5.—President Wilson was today putting the finishing touches on his latest note to Germany concerning the sinking of the Lusitania. It already had been approved in principle by the cabinet. All that was needed today to start the communication on its way to Berlin was the making of minor changes in phraseology. This was the task before the president.

The president was expected to complete the work of revision during the day. The note will then be sent to the state department for transmission by cable probably tonight or tomorrow to Ambassador Gerard at Berlin who will in turn present it to the German foreign office.

Previous reports that the note will be brief but emphatic, are borne out, it is said, by the text as it now stands.

REGRETS "ACCIDENT" THAT SANK GULFLIGHT

Washington, June 5.—Germany in a note cabled to the state department yesterday by Ambassador Gerard at Berlin expressed regret that, through "an unfortunate accident," a German submarine had torpedoed the American steamship Gulflight and declared itself ready to furnish full recompense for the damage thereby sustained by American citizens.

In the same communication the German foreign office said it had not yet been possible to clear up fully the cause of the American steamer Cushing reported attacked by a German aeroplane and asked that the United States communicate the information in its possession concerning this incident.

Blame for the attack on the Gulflight was placed by the foreign office upon the proximity of two British patrol boats and the

GERMANS SINK FIVE SHIPS, AIRSHIPS RAID ENGLAND

London, June 5 (1:15 p. m.).—Hostile airships dropped bombs on the east and southeast coasts of England last night. Little damage was done and the casualties apparently were few.

The trawler Little Boy of Lowestoft has arrived at that port with the crews of the trawlers Horace and Economy on board, these two ships having been sunk by the Germans.

A German submarine stopped the three trawlers in the North Sea, Thursday and gave the crews of the Horace and the Economy five minutes to board the Little Boy. After the transfer had been made the fishermen were sunk by bombs placed on board by the crew of the submarine.

Norwich, Eng., June 5 (12:05 p. m.).—The steam drifter Ena May, of Peterhead, the trawler Struthban and the sailing ship George and Mary all have been sent to the bottom by German submarines. The crews of all three ships were saved.

AVIATORS INJURED IN 300 FT FALL

Chicago, June 5.—Vincent Dury and Frank Touth, aviators, were in a critical condition today as a result of falling 300 feet while testing a new biplane yesterday. They were buried under the wreckage and suffered internal injuries which physicians said probably would prove fatal. Dury was a former pupil of Lincoln Benedict.

New York, June 5.—A French tank steamer designed to mother submarines arrived at this port today from Bordeaux. The vessel is fitted with opening haws through which a submarine may enter. When the submarine is in position in the ship's interior, the haws are closed and the steamer is then ready to sink and discharge the submarine at distant points wherever desired. The steamer is the first of three vessels of her type built and building. She is named The Kangaroo.

The expression of regret and offer of reparation in today's note follows the principle outlined in the circular recently sent to neutral nations by Germany, disclaiming any intention of attacking neutrals carrying contraband cargoes.

WILD CATTLE PLAY BIG PART IN ITALIAN CHARGE

Rome, (Via Paris), June 5.—Fifty wild cattle materially aided Italian troops in capturing a strong Austrian position on Monte Corno, according to the Corriere d'Italia. The Austrian garrison had surrounded itself with a high barbed wire entanglement against which the Italians drove the cattle. Startled by exploding bombs the animals attacked the entanglements with hoofs and horns and in a quarter of an hour had swept away the obstacle so that the Italians were able to gain the summit easily.

The charge of the cattle, for which no previous military experience had prepared them, is said to have stampeded the Austrians.

GREEK KING WILL UNDERGO OPERATION

Athens, (Via London) June 5.—Announcement was made today that King Constantine of Greece had a change for the worse, and that another operation on his Majesty will have to be performed.

The operation will necessitate the removal of one or more of the king's ribs. The temperature of the patient last evening was 99.6; pulse 102 and respiration 20.

The King of Greece has been suffering from pleurisy for several weeks and his condition has been far from satisfactory. He underwent an operation the latter part of May, after which he suffered a relapse. The reports concerning his progress have been more or less contradictory, but recently his condition is said to have been critical. King Constantine's wife is a sister of Emperor William of Germany.

178 SHELLS DROPPED ON ROYAL CAMP

London, June 5.—A Renter dispatch from Amsterdam says telegrams from Berlin state the aerial attack made by French aviators on the headquarters of the German crown prince resulted in several men being killed by bombs but that otherwise it was unsuccessful.

A French statement says twenty-nine aeroplanes bombarded the headquarters of the crown prince the morning of that day. They were said to have dropped 178 shells and several thousand darts.

Miss Pansy R. Remick, a former Portsmouth high school student, was one of the 35 graduates who received their diplomas at the Ironton high school commencement Thursday evening. She will take up teaching.

Wounded Soldiers Fill Turk Capital American Women To Care For War Babies

Washington, June 5.—Wounded soldiers are arriving continuously in Constantinople in such large numbers that the Turkish authorities there are unable to cope with the situation, according to American ambassador Morgenthau at Constantinople, in a communication to the American Red Cross appealing for additional supplies.

Mr. Morgenthau, who is chairman of the American Red Cross chapter there reports under date of May 8, that there were then in Constantinople alone over 4,000 wounded soldiers, and that more were arriving daily.

"The conditions here are very sad," the ambassador said. "I have never been brought in contact with so many wounded men and they bear such a brave lot, that they bear their pains without complaint."

CROWN PRINCE'S ARMY TO BE GODFATHERS TO GIRL

Berlin, June 5.—The Crown Prince William's infant daughter is to have the whole of the Crown Prince's army as her godfathers. Announcement to this effect is made in the Vossische Zeitung, which says:
"We are informed that, in addition to other personages, the Crown Prince and Princess have chosen as godparents the whole of the Fifth Army, of which the Crown Prince is the head. The choice shows afresh what a beautiful relationship of confidence exists between the leader and his army."

Philadelphians, June 5.—Thirty or more American women physicians will be sent to Europe to aid in the care of war babies and their mothers, according to plans launched here yesterday by the alumnae of the Women's Medical College.

Dr. Harriet L. Hartley was appointed to head a committee which was authorized to collect funds and to correspond with representatives of the warring powers concerning the location of a proposed hospital for women and children in the war zone.

OHIOAN RESIGNS

Washington, June 5.—Sherman T. McPherson, United States attorney for Southern Ohio, resigned today and President Wilson selected Stuart R. Bolin of Columbus to succeed him.

FEAR MEXICANS WILL ATTACK AUGA PRIETA

Douglas, Ariz., June 5.—Warnings issued to Villa commanders, Trujillo and Urbulejo, by Colonel C. M. O'Connor that an attack on Auga Prieta would endanger American lives and property on this side of the boundary line have been followed by a heavy increase in the United States border patrol. Additional troops of the Ninth cavalry took up stations today east and west of here. It is reported that forces under Generals Trujillo, Urbulejo and Sosa are gradually closing in to invest Auga Prieta. The Carranza garrison is strengthening fortifications.

El Paso, Texas, June 5.—In messages received here Miguel Diaz Lombardo, minister of foreign relations in the Villa government cabinet, announced that he would leave Oihualtepec today aboard a special train to convey Mexican messages to General Villa. He will be accompanied by Geo. C. Carothers, special agent of the state department to Northern Mexico.

The party will go directly to Leon, Guanajuato, from where they hope to arrange a meeting with Gen. Villa, who is now with his troops fighting south of Trinidad, Guanajuato.

CARRANZA IS TO REPLY FAVORABLY TO WILSON

Washington, June 5.—Unofficial advice received here from Vera Cruz, saying that General Carranza would reply favorably to President Wilson's statement calling upon the heads of the warring factions in Mexico to restore peace in the southern republic, gave renewed hope to administration officials today of an ultimate solution of the problem.

General Carranza is the first one of the heads of the contending factions to be heard from directly concerning the president's warning. Officials have heard indirectly from Gen. Villa through his representatives that he was favorable to the president's proposal.

General Carranza's reply, it was said, was being prepared by Jesus Granda, constitutionalist foreign minister, and would be delivered to John P. Silliman, President Wilson's personal representative in Mexico, probably by Monday. The reply, the advice said, would be "supercilious, friendly and serene."

In tone, Carranza's reply was said, intended to interpret the president's warning as a tacit hint that he was the man best fitted to assume ascendancy in Mexico and most likely to receive recognition by Washington, once the constitutionalists return to Mexico City.

State department officials today awaited full reports from American consular representatives in Mexico, on conditions in the southern republic.

These reports which had been called for will serve the two-fold purpose of facilitating the work of American Red Cross in relieving Mexico's hungry civilian population and aid the American government in developing the next step in its policy toward the contending military elements.

STEEL TRUST DECISION WILL BE APPEALED

Washington, June 5.—Department of Justice officials were today studying the decision of the federal district court at Trenton, which dismissed the government's suit for the dissolution of the United States Steel Corporation with the intention of taking an appeal to the supreme court. Formal announcement that an appeal would be taken was made by Attorney General Gregory, following the receipt by him of the full text of the district court's decision. He also said that although the case against the steel corporation was instituted by the previous administration, he was in complete accord with the view of the law on which it was based.

Administration officials who regard the proceeding as one of the most important ever brought under the Sherman anti-trust law are said to be in full agreement that an appeal should be taken.

WAIL FROM PIKE COUNTY.

The Republican-Herald, Republican organ of Pike county, is not in love with the new Liquor License bill and announces that it will support a referendum on the bill, if one is called. The new law puts Pike county into a licensing district with Adams county and as the selection of supervisors must take place at the most populous county sent the electing officers will meet at West Union. Adams has no saloons and Pike has three, yet under the law Adams county will get one of the supervisors. He will have either to spend his time in Pike county or else neglect his "supervision." Of course the good Waverly paper says that there will be a neglect of supervision, but we do not think so. We do see, however, wherein some politician from dry Adams, may seize the opportunity to gain temporary residence in Pike and be very much present in the supervising game.

NOISE IN GALLIPOLIS.

The even and peaceful tenor of life for Col. Sibley, of the Gallipolis Tribune, has been destroyed apparently by the activity of some garage men of his town and so he hands them this cruel jibe in his issue of Thursday:

"We do think that in a well governed town men who tinker with automobiles would not be allowed to do their work on the principal avenue of the town, when it involves a lot of noise that makes it impossible for other people to talk or attend to business within a half block of them. It is simply a public nuisance the way some of the garage men impose on the public in this way."

We sympathize with our editorial friend. We agree that any amount of noise in Gallipolis is unthinkable, a rare phenomenon calling for immediate and thorough investigation and drastic suppression. Let there be prompt action by the authorities that peace and quiet again hold undisputed sway in the old city of the French Five Hundred.

The G. O. P. organs tell us the legislature would be in session yet had not Willis thrown his powerful personality into the vortex or somewhere and compelled it to do things it ought to do and do them then and there. Let's see. Didn't we hear something in the last campaign about one Jim Cox being all that was deadly and horrible because he was a boss, a tyrant, a Czar and everything else dictatorial to the legislature? And just to think the people went out and voted aye to it all. Foolish people!

State Auditor Donahay is going to run a little investigating committee of his own and find how those flowers, pen knives, scissors, razors, steel engraved visiting cards and flowers, that the senate and house presented themselves with, were paid for. Of course, it is known how, but then it will do no harm to have a public uproar and exposure of a very contemptible piece of graft.

We fail to see exactly why the city should feel called upon to enter into a fierce rivalry with the commissioners over the temporary roadway question. Yet a flustered citizen who dropped into our office Friday expressed the opinion that as between the Chillicothe Pike temporary roadway and the Gallia pike brand, he had no choice.

Again we are pained to remark that there is no evidence of any disposition on the part of the G. O. P. leaders to get together with the Hon. N. B. Gilliland. But N. B. G. is not worrying. He says the plain workingman is going to do all the getting together he requires in his business.

Thank goodness it is settled now, Auditor Donahay has assured the governor that he can travel at public expense to the Frisco exposition and make all the political speeches he wants to while enroute without fear of having his expense account turned down.

How to catch a fellow and keep him as it should be done is explained by the Bradley County, Arkansas, Eagle, which printed this interesting item in a recent issue:

"It was thought that Miss Gladys Barfield had caught a nice young beau last Sunday. She started to take him home with her but when he got to the gate he became frightened and ran. Gladys, bring a rope next time."

THE TEMPTING GATEWAY--WILL THEY TRY TO USE IT?

THE GLAD HAND

The Gallipolis Journal is filled with joy at the resurrection of the old Tenth district and extends a royal welcome in this manner:

"The old-time Tenth Congressional District has been re-established, with Vinton county added for good measure, by the redistricting bill passed during the closing hours of the late session of the General Assembly. Gallia county will now be associated for congressional purposes with Adams, Pike, Scioto, Lawrence, Jackson and Vinton—Sunfish and Pee Pee Townships, Brush Creek, the Washington Hotel, 21 for Johnson, Sandy Bateman, Chun Moulton, the Portsmouth Times for Johnson, Capt. Ernest Sutter and a whole lot of other fellows and things."

Quite frequently an editor is criticised for expressing his opinions. And then he is criticised for not doing so. Phet is, he is criticised either way—and both ways—and just ambles along as blissfully indifferent as a duck in a summer shower.—Barwell (S. C.) Sentinel.

The labor fellows are going to pull off a referendum on the Gallagher bill. They could have saved themselves that trouble had they "legged" for Jim Cox with some oneness at the November election.

Ohio registers forty-eight thousand more automobiles this year than last, costing in the naked purchase approximately thirty-five million dollars. And yet they say the times are bad.

And even the June rise could not revive the late insistent talk about that extension of the flood wall. Let us be up and doing if we are going to do at all.

Really we are getting quite metropolitan. It is not every town that can boast of an anti-labor suit like the one filed Thursday afternoon.

Of course another way to look at it is that while we are making faces at Mexico we are not worrying about what might happen if we got mixed up with one of those wild-eyed scorpions over in Europe.

Hold-up men took from his victim $19, a jackknife, postage stamps, a fountain pen, stick pin, fraternal pin and his collar button. Another fellow whose motto is "Thorough."—New York Telegram.

How to Say He Died

Passed away.
Left the earth.
Went to the great beyond.
Breathed his last.
Answered the roll call to the eternal realm.
Was taken by the Grim Reaper.
Crossed the bar.
Crossed the great divide.
Kicked the bucket.
Turned his toes to the daisies.
Succumbed.
Shuffled off this mortal coil.
Made his final getaway.
Departed this life.
Gone to his reward.
Expired.
Cashied in his checks.
Returned to the dust.
His troubles were ended.
All was over with him.
Went glimmering.
Gathered to his fathers.
Croaked.

Took up his dwelling in that low green tent whose curtain never inward swings.
Terminated life's career.
Made his exit from this worldly stage.
Passed into that bourne from which no traveler returns.

Speaking of Slang

Just to show how much verse to slang he was a small boy in a Chicago school explained to the teacher one day that he had been walking with a friend, but neglected to take off his hat when they met a lady both knew. This friend had nudged him and whispered: "Take off your lid, you simp." "What he should have said," explained the boy, "was: 'Remove your hat, you nut!'"

The general sentiment is summed up in the words of the small boy who ventured this: "Anyway, it's only roughbecks who use slang nowadays."

Visiting Relatives

Prof. Augustus Dill, noted colored educator, of New York City, has been here since Tuesday, visiting home folks.

New York, June 5.—Money, as Remond Wolf would say, being coy and reluctant among the richer set this past year has driven thousands from handsome apartments in New York to hotel suites. When Alfred G. Vanderbilt, who lost his life on the Lusitania, built the Hotel Vanderbilt he set the pace for a lot of folk who hesitated to live in hotels. Vanderbilt made the entire top floor of his hotel his New York home and when the Vanderbilts do anything here it is certain that a lot of others are going to follow suit. When a lot of incomes were curtailed, there was a grand rush from the big, luxurious apartments to the three or four room suites in hotels.

The custom has become very popular and while it has been a financial wallop for the apartment house owners it has been the means of keeping a lot of the first class hotels out of bankruptcy.

Mike Danlin, the eminent Thespian and base ball star, has been captured by the movies. Next month Mike will take up acting for the screen in a base ball story written by Bozeman Bulger, base ball editor of The World.

The film play will be the first production of a new film company called The Reel Photo-Play Company, which has been incorporated and is going to put out some hummer films. Mike was being congratulated by his friends at the Frisco on his new job the other day. He also told a good yarn. In the days of Ed Delehanty, that star hit a home run in Cincinnati that looked like it would never come down. Jack Powell watched the sphere until it disappeared and shook his head. "Gee!" he said, "I wish I had that home run cut into singles. I'd lead the league in batting."

Start Work On Reservoir Floor

Ortis & Shinnery succeeded in getting started Friday on the work of reconstructing the floor of the reservoir.

The basin has been drained since May 1st, but the constant rain made it impossible to get the required material on the ground unless a tram-road were built. The contractors got an excellent start, and if they keep on at the same rate should have the floor completed in two weeks' time.

CUMB SAGE TEA IN LIFELESS, GRAY MATR

Look young! Common garden Sage and Sulphur restores so naturally nobody can tell Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. When her hair fell out or took on thin, dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By adding to any good store for "Wick's Sage and Sulphur Compound" you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, ready to use, for about 50 cents. This mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is especially for dandruff, dry, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says: "I have used Wick's Sage and Sulphur because it restores so naturally and cheaply that nobody can tell the difference. It is so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant."

District Officer Praises M. W. of A.

The applications of three candidates were balloted upon favorably in the meeting of River City Camp, Modern Woodmen of America, Friday evening. They are Russell Puckett, George A. Gleim and Edward Kalb. They will be initiated at the next meeting.

An interested spectator at the meeting was Frank Mattis, of Zanesville, district deputy of the order. During the evening he made an interesting talk to the Camp, in which he praised highly the local officers, and the work that they had been doing.

A big turnout of the members is expected Sunday afternoon at the annual memorial services of the camp at Greenlawn cemetery. They will meet at the lodge hall, Third and Chillicothe streets, at 1:30 o'clock and march in a body to the cemetery behind the River City band. The program was given in full in Friday's Times.

Next Friday meeting, business of special importance to the lodge will be transacted and a session will be arranged by the special committee of the Camp.
